Plastics added to Antioch's recycling plan

Effective immediately, the Village of Antioch's recycling center will accept plastic containers. The Village Board of Trustees approved a motion, Feb. 18, to enter into an agreement with A-1 Recycling, Fox Lake, for pick-up of plastic containers.

Initially, only number two plastic containers will be accepted. These include milk jugs, laundry detergent and bleach bottles and similar items.

Program co-coordinator Theresa Kovach, expects that the scope of the collection will expand by the end of March to include number one plastics. Two-liter soft drink bottles are a common product of number one plastic. Residents are encouraged to save such items until they may be collected.

Pursuant to a Illinois Environmental Protection Agency regulation, all plastics must be marked with an emblem identifying its classification. Containers are marked on the bottom with an emblem containing the corresponding number classification of the plastic.

The recycling center is open on Saturdays, 9 a.m. to noon and is located at the corner of Corona and Williams Streets in Williams Park.

In addition to plastic, the center accepts glass, tin and aluminum. Bottles and cans (Continued on Page 8)

DARE prepares youth for challenges of life

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) is showing kids how to just say yes to healthy lifestyles. Fifth graders at Millburn School are getting to know about drugs. More importantly, they're getting to know about how to keep drugs out of their lives.

"It doesn't make you cool to drink beer or smoke marijuana, and 'it (drugs and alcohol) could seriously mess your brain up,' are observations shared by students following their first week in DARE.

Through the Lindenhurst Police Dept. and Officer Jeff Hoel, drug abuse Resistance is a new "R" in the basic curriculum at Millburn. The program is scheduled to expand to Pleviak School next fall.

"We're the last defense for these kids; the parents, the teachers and us (police)," said Hoel, who completed two weeks of training for the program in Springfield.

This defense is built in stages through the 17-week course. Each stage focuses on essential skills for remaining safe and healthy amid the pressures of society.

"We want to teach kids that they can feel good about themselves and be proud of it," he added.

Feeling good about themselves is not merely an objective of the course, but an inalienable right to each child. Integral to the program is that the child understands that he or she has the right to be happy and to be treated with care and understanding.

Realization of DARE's bill of rights is a summary of all of the 17 stages of the DARE curriculum. It means learning about consequences of doing drugs, ways to resist doing drugs, building self-esteem and assertiveness, and "real-world" issues like stress management, decision-making and forming a support system.

"It's really a building block-type program," said Hoel.

Students tackle each phase by completing exercises in their DARE workbooks and by taking active and creative roles in the evolution of the course.

"The kids love the role playing," added Hoel, "that's one of the big advantages to the program."

Another advantage, says Hoel, is that the program is designed to appeal to the three kinds of learning types: kinesthetic, visual and audio.

"It's something that keeps the attention of all of them," he added.

However, keeping that attention and trust is a crucial component to the success of the program. DARE classes are made up of no more than 30 students to ensure that each has a personal role in the course.

Hoel nurtures a rapport with the class, breaking the ice with talk about Nintendo and other things dear to the hearts of fifth graders. Without an easy rapport and trust, Hoel says, the lesson may be lost on some.

Before embarking on the core of the program, the students are quizzed on their basic knowledge about drugs and their effects. Their knowledge is measured in a short true-or-false quiz which is repeated at (Continued on Page 8)

Disaster console

WAUCONDA — Wauconda's trustees have made sure there will be no lack of communications when the village's new police facility opens. The board has earmarked $25,000 to create a second dispatcher console, which can be manned in the event of a disaster — natural or man-made. "We know disasters can happen," said Trustee Ted Kipp, chairman of the police committee.

High school vote

LIBERTYVILLE — Voters in high school Dist. 128 will go to the polls with only one proposition on the Tuesday, Feb. 26, ballot: whether $27.8 million in building bonds should be issued for a 60-plus room school addition. The school board voted this week to spend no more than $22.5 million due to lower construction costs for similar building projects at Stevenson High School and in Grayslake. Meanwhile, the latest issue of the Vernon Hills newsletter questions why a new high school is not being built in that community.

Economic commission elects officers

New officers of the Lake County Economic Development Commission and Corporation were elected.

Elected to the commission's top post by the membership and appointed chairman by the Lake County Board was Harry Pettengill of Wadsworth. Pettengill is manager of corporate facilities planning at Abbott Laboratories. Pettengill succeeds James M. Wilmot of Gurnee who stepped down as chairman after three years. Wilmot will remain as an active member of the organization.

Named vice chairman for 1991 is Robert MacGruder, executive vice president of the Lake County Contractors Assn. Re-elected secretary is Ronald Crawford, regional manager for Commonwealth Edison Co.

Re-elected to head the corporation for another year is Charles deRivera who is

No go for Volo

VOLO — Lake County Judge William D. Block put the stop to any chance that the residents of Volo will have a referendum on incorporation during this April 2 election. His decision means that the group that tried to form the new town either will have to go to the Illinois Appellate Court or wait a year and submit a new map, if they wish to continue the efforts. The judge ruled against the groups request due to the map that they had submitted. The proposed village consisted of a circle which would have gone almost completely around the proposed shopping development by Homart Development.

Plat approved

LINDENHURST — The board of trustees gave final plat approval to the Emerald Ridge development in a continuation of the Feb. 18 regular board meeting. However, before any work can begin, the developers must provide the village with a letter of credit in the amount of $870,000. The letter will serve to ensure that public improvements, such as streets, sewer, water and landscaping, are completed in the development.

No 'mud slinging'

MUNDELEIN — Trustee Ralph Rohling is calling on all village candidates in the April election to sign a Fair Campaign Practices code sent out by County Clerk Linda Hess. Two candidates he supports — James Starkey and James Nutschig — have done so. "I want to stop the mud slinging of last spring's campaign," he said.

Question plan

LAKE VILLA — The board of trustees and a number of residents will be looking closely at a proposed residential development on 214 acres at Fairfield and Monaville Road. Included in the proposed use of the acreage is 88-acres open space, 6-acres peripheral roads and 32-acres internal roads. The remaining 88 acres would be broken into 5,500 to 8,400 square foot lots for 462 housing units. Residents of neighboring properties are expressing concern over the density.

200-flag salute

LAKE ZURICH — A Lake Zurich furniture business rises far above a show of support for troops in the Middle East with a picture perfect opportunity for the public. Two-hundred American Flags plus several yellow ribbon flags greet Capaccio Brothers Inc. customers as well as drivers on Cortland Drive and Route 22. Two Statue of Liberty pieces standing about seven feet tall guard each end of the business one of which sports a yellow ribbon bracelet. Ron and Nick Capaccio, business owners, planted the display Feb. 13 and according to Nick, "It will stay up until the war is over."

No abating taxes

NORTH CHICAGO — Citing increase in cost of government, the North Chicago City Council, for the first time in 12 years, is not abating certain taxes. Those taxes which will not be abated this fiscal year include library, new fire station and extension of city hall. Mayor Bobby Thompson said he hopes the taxes could be abated next year.

School has support

VERNON HILLS — In a two hour presentation at Libertyville High School Saturday, a tax watchdog group voiced its support for a $27.8 million referendum to construct new facilities at the Butler Lake campus. "As superintendent I am very pleased that I-RATE has chosen to support the referendum," said Don Gossett, superintendent. "I want their support just as I want the support of everyone in our communities." Community members of District 128 will be asked to do the same Feb. 26 when the referendum is placed before voters.

Drop land buy

WAUKEGAN — The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. voted 12-10 to de-designate the McKay property from its Rollins Savanna land acquisition. The parcel off Washington St. across from the College of Lake County and the Lake County Area Vocational Center is 26 acres. Also, the Foresters voted to de-designate 90 acres of the Almond Rd. area, but Forest Preserve President Andrea Moore of Dist. 5 ruled 13 votes were needed. That effort could come up again in March.

Looks to future

NORTH CHICAGO — With an eye toward the future, Foss Park Dist. commissioners and residents discussed a wide variety of options, all with the objective of providing a better park district for the residents. "We're trying to put together a five-year plan," Foss Park Board of Commissioners Vice President Arland Hooper said.

Fresh catch of the day

The fish weren't the only ones lined up at the Chain O'Lakes Ice Fishing Derby, Feb. 9-10. The Northern Illinois Conservation Club reports a healthy turnout for their annual fund-raiser. The big fish story for the weekend was a 31.6 inch catfish pulled from Channel Lake. A 30.6 inch northern pike and a 23.4 inch walleye were registered. On the flip-side, a 1.5 inch blue-gill was put up on the tote board as the smallest catch.—Photo by Mary Sullivan.

New ACHS principal's first goal: get acquainted

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

New Antioch Community High School Principal Dr. Michael L. Radokovich is taking a crash course in "Dist. 117", before taking over his new position, July 1.

In addition to his duties as Director of Instruction at Niles Township High School Dist 219, Radokovich is doing "homework" around town, getting "a feel of where we are" in the district.

"I think the responsibility of any school system is to lend an ear to what the community expectations are," he said.

Radokovich keeps his ears open during his weekly visits/fact-finding missions to the district. He hopes to meet as many people and contacts with the school as he can, to establish a collaborative-type effort to help map the future of the school.

"There are some areas that are probably of interest to change," he said, "but in order to layout a specific plan, I need to do more homework."

His preliminary findings indicate that the school's good reputation is preceding his arrival.

"There are a lot of things that have been done at ACHS that are great things and we need to build upon those things," he said.

Radokovich is not pressing for quick answers to short-range goals or problems. Through his continuing research he hopes to develop a long-reaching outlook on the future needs of the district.

"Short-term answers cause frustration," he said, "if we don't have long range plans we'll find ourselves struggling through-out."

Radokovich will bring with him an educational philosophy which advocates active and cooperative teaching styles. He states that teachers should be accessible to each individual, to educate in whatever way possible.

With technology playing an essential role in today's educational system, Radokovich stresses the need to effectively integrate it into the system. He advocates the construction of a new high school to help facilitate this process.

"Technology is vital in the planning of any high school," he said.

Radokovich's devotion to education is molded by his experiences. An immigrant from Germany, he came to the U.S. in the 1960's, speaking no English. He worked his way up the educational ladder, which he says, "gave me the opportunity to be successful."

He earned his bachelor's degree in social studies and foreign language from the University of Kansas in 1971. In 1973, he earned a master's degree in education and administration from Roosevelt University. He earned a doctorate in philosophy with an emphasis in social studies education from Northwestern University in 1976.

Zoning board considers wetland-area venture

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals delayed a decision on a zoning change on property in which wetlands are present. The issue was referred to a review meeting, March 1.

Just less than five acres in area, the property is located on the east side of Rte. 83, approximately 1/4 mile south of Town Line Road in Lake Villa Township. It is presently zoned C-countryside, which does not permit for any type of development.

Property owner Joel Kennedy approached the board, Feb. 15, for a zoning reclassification to GI-general industrial to permit the location of a shop/office for his sewer and water construction company.

"We know the property exists in an environmentally sensitive region," said Kennedy's attorney Howard Teegan, "and our engineers will show that there's no detriment to the location."

However, residents of adjacent properties and of Loon Lake expressed concerns over the effects of development in areas designated as wetlands and floodplains. The property is also located in the Loon Lakes watershed, through which water flows and is filtered into the lake.

"I have no objection to any progress in building," said Loon Lake Management Association President John Bambule, "my objection would be only that if we change any of the watershed areas it does affect us."

According to Bruce Fallahi, an engineer for Mission Enterprises, Gurnee, one-fifth of the area is comprised of wetlands or floodplain. To accommodate any displaced water from the development, Fallahi proposed that a 7.76 foot retention pond would be dug and a 10-inch pipe would be installed to control outflow from the pond.

"We do not intend to fill any areas that are of concern to the Army Corps of Engineers," said Teegan.

'I have no objection to any progress in building. My objection would be only that if we change any of the watershed areas, it does affect us,'—Loon Lake Management Assoc. Pres. John Bambule

Although any prospective development must attain subsequent approval from the Corps, Bambule is concerned that even a small deviation in the wetland system could upset the delicate balance of nature. He says that retention ponds can serve to hold back water flow, but the crucial filtering action is restricted.

"We don't know what the long, long-term effect is," he said.

Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer represented the village in approval of the rezoning, only under the provision that the flow of water coming off the property is at no higher rate than present and that the property would hold the same amount of water as it does now.

Pursuant to a letter from the Lake County Health Department a recommendation is made that the owner hire a wetland consultant to delineate the true extent of the wetland. Cited in the letter is the natural resource opinion of the Soil and Water Conservation District which opposes the zoning change.

"The environment is not going to permit an intense use and we're not going to put in an intense use," said Teegan.

According to Kennedy, the proposed facility would employ two-to-three full-time employees and sewer and water service would not be required. He said that traffic would be minimal, with five-to-six trucks per day making deliveries. Occasionally, heavy equipment would be present at the site.

Wilton drops court case against Miller

by MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

A Feb. 13 ruling by the Board of Police and Fire Commission prompted Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton to withdraw a lawsuit against Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, Feb. 20.

According to Wilton, the commission ruled that the mayor does not possess the authority to impose disciplinary action in police department affairs.

The ruling was precipitated by an attempt by Wilton to hand down one-hour with pay suspensions to two police officers and a dispatcher. The three are involved in ongoing disciplinary action by the chief.

Wilton's order to the chief to drop the action was withdrawn based upon the commission's ruling.

Miller and Wilton were set to square off in court with corresponding lawsuits. Wilton had sought contempt charges against Miller for failure to heed the mayoral order to cease disciplinary action. Miller had sought similar charges against the mayor, citing a violation of a previous court order restricting the mayor from interfering into police matters. Both lawsuits have been withdrawn.

"I just want to get back to my job," said Miller, "and it's getting more and more difficult with all the bad publicity and interference."

The diverted court battle is the latest in an ongoing rift between the two parties.

Central to the dispute has been the chain of command within the departments.

A recent decision by the Antioch Village Board of Trustees, revised the village administrator ordinance to state that the chief of police must attain the approval of the village administrator for any department matters. Subsequently, the matter would be reviewed by the corporate authority of the village, the mayor and board of trustees.

Previously, the mayor had the was designated to approve police action, without the interaction of the board.

Additionally, an Aug. 29, 1990 court order stated that the mayor would be enjoined from preventing the chief of police from executing his lawful duties.

A beauty visit to Sally Hiller's Short Cut Salon proved to be a special experience as I got to meet and visit with Dave DeVore, a long-time Antioch area resident. Dave will soon be celebrating his eighty-first birthday and he is definitely a lively, fun-loving, young-at-heart individual. He is a retired musician and his stories from his past experiences in this field were very interesting to both Sally and I. It was nice meeting you, Dave. ### Special Teachers

Carol Macek, fourth grade teacher at Lotus School, was nominated for the Golden Apple Award by someone in the school community. Nancy Henn, the second grade teacher at Lotus, has recently been listed in "Who's Who in American Education" in the Best Teacher section. One of Nancy's former students nominated her for this honor.

If you walk into Nancy's class at Lotus, you will most likely see many different groups of students working and learning together. Nancy feels that children working together in this way learn more about the subject at hand, while they also learn to interact socially. It is almost like having a room full of teachers. Naturally Nancy is always on hand to oversee and orchestrate this form of learning. The students enjoy helping each other in this fashion and as they explain something to a peer it reinforces what they themselves have just learned.

Hometown Goodies

name in order to re-define their original purpose? For instance, the normal purpose of a table is for eating. However, Miss Liz gave a title and thus a new purpose to one of the entryway tables at "Camp Crayon". It is now referred to as "The Go-Home Table". Not because it leaves the Camp and returns home of its own power, but because it holds the special objects that return home each day with the children. For instance, "We will place your papers on the 'Go-Home Table', make sure you take them when you leave." Or, "Yes, you may put your flag pin on the 'Go-Home Table'." Or "Miss Liz, should I put this special drawing on the 'Go-Home Table'?", etc. Get the picture?

I started labeling the table and it is amazing how quickly it caught on. At first, Miss Marie, Miss Debi, and Miss Joanne would give me that "is she for real" look, but soon I heard them saying, "I'll put this or that on the 'Go-Home Table' for you." As for the little people, would gets around fast. In the beginning a few would inquire "what is a 'Go-Home Table'?" Soon their peers would take the matter out of my hands and exclaim with confidence, "That's the table where you put things to go home!"

A Room Re-Named

A similar story is, we have an extra bedroom in our house that is unoccupied. Also, as you all between jaunts to our Northern home, I store these items in our extra room and every time we run across something to be added to our list of necessities, I find myself saying "I'll put it in the Eagle River Room," as that is the title this bedroom has acquired.

So here we were at a yearbook meeting and one of the ladies needed an item from our box of last year's supplies. I quickly told her to go upstairs and she would find it in the Eagle River Room. It seemed to stump her for a moment, but she soon realized I meant here in the Antioch house, not 300 miles north to Eagle River.

Then another "Smarty Pants" on the committee quickly inquired "What I want to know is, do you have an Antioch Room in your Eagle River house?" The answer to that is, "No, but it may not be a bad idea!"

Different Terminology

Kindergarten teacher Dee Samson, told her little charges to take a particular item home and "put it in the parlor next to the sofa". One little student inquired, "Mrs. Samson, what is a parlor and what is a sofa?" Realizing her speech was slightly out-dated for this age group, she replied, "You can put it in the living room next to the couch!" At last they understood, and Dee has another memory to tuck away into

Guides Pearl Roach and Gloria Carrick escorted Patsy Brown to the altar where Grube announced her as "co-worker of the month."

Co-worker Cheryl Fran and Michelle Blake were presented with their chapter pins after attending three meetings. Birthday marchers were Grube, Pat Sterling and Fran Lombardo.

Nominations are being taken for next officers.

Letter to the Editor

Beaver is our friend

Editor:

I am a resident of the Channel Lake Bluffs area of Antioch. I am appalled to live in an area with such disregard for nature and wildlife. I am not sure if it's ignorance or selfishness.

The beaver is a unique rodent. They live as a family, a pair (the parents) and two-to-four babies every spring. As yearlings, they move five-to-ten miles from their place of birth to find a mate and build their own lodge. The parents then have a new litter (of two-to-four babies).

Beavers eat bark, green twigs and plants, including aquatic plants that humans find undesirable. Beavers use what they chew, be it as food or as lumber for their lodges and dam or twigs for their winter food stock. They are not wasteful as humans are.

We have destroyed beavers' natural predators (wolves, bears, coyotes) in this area. Now, we are in the process of destroying the beaver.

Actually, the beaver is trying to help conserve the land. The beaver controls water tables, conserves water, controls soil erosion, thins out trees, controls aquatic growth, enhances the area for other wildlife.

I hope I have at least helped someone to understand our friend, the beaver.

I think it's a shame that the beaver is being killed so people can have open waterways only to take out their big boats to destroy weedbeds, kill more wildlife and pollute the waters.

The beaver isn't the problem, people are.

DARE

(Continued from Page 1) conclusion of the course. Alcohol and marijuana are emphasized within the curriculum because of their classification as "gateway drugs" or drugs which may lead to use of harder substances.

The availability of these substances are among the daily threats in every student's environment. Awareness of dangers, practices for personal safety and understanding of the need for laws, is the focus of the first session.

With the understanding that certain drugs, if taken properly, can be beneficial, students gain a greater understanding of drug use, misuse and abuse. Inherent in this knowledge is an awareness of the consequences, both good and bad, of use of drugs, alcohol and tobacco.

Students enthusiastically spell out these consequences in classroom exercises. Although, being kicked out of school, for some, seemed a whimsically welcome short-range consequence to breaking rules, each were aware of the overall good and bad sides to selected circumstances.

Knowledge of the negative effects of using drugs and the positive effects of not using them, translates into effective ways to resist pressure to use. The students are taught to realize that individual decisions are influenced by a variety of forces, including peers and the media.

Self-esteem, the ability to recognize positive qualities about themselves, gives students a crucial weapon to the student's arsenal to combat unsavory influences.

The program helps to cultivate self-esteem by asking each student to get to know him or herself and others. Students are asked to identify at least one positive personality trait which they possess, illustrate similarities and differences among people, and recognize that individuals have different strengths and weaknesses. Subsequently, the role playing is employed with students practicing how to give and receive compliments and how to be assertive when refusing offers to use drugs.

However, the presence and magnitude of stress may cause self-esteem and assertiveness to waiver. Students are taught how to identify stress and its affects on the body, as well as how to deal with it without turning to drugs. Deep breathing in stressful times is a recommended practice.

Stress management, decision-making and risk taking are areas targeted by the program to give the students the tools to stay away from drugs and gangs, while choosing healthy lifestyles, a positive support system and strong self-esteem.

In the final weeks of the program, students are asked to prepare and read aloud a script illustrating how they would respond when pressured to use drugs.

Their script will likely be a rehearsal for future situations in their lives. With their DARE diploma, which they receive in a graduation ceremony, it is hoped that they will have their act straight.

MDA poster child always has a smile

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

What makes Kathleen Surdyski so special? She's an inspiration.

"She's an easy-going, happy always-has-a-smile kid," said Kathleen Jensen, patient services coordinator for the Rock River Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association. "She'll be a good example."

Surdyski, a sixth grader at Lake Zurich Junior High School, has been chosen by the Rock River MDA as one of two poster children for 1991.

"She'll be an example for the other kids to keep trying despite their handicaps," Jensen said.

Surdyski suffers from Congenital Muscular Dystrophy, which is caused by a hereditary or genetic fluke.

Her condition aside, Surdyski is just like any other Ninja Turtle-watching, Nintendo-playing, junk-food-loving 11-year-old.

"I'm excited," Surdyski said about her status as an MDA ambassador.

Surdyski's favorite activities include "putting puzzles together, actually, and reading," she said. As far as food goes, she'll take "anything Mexican, really." The last time she really enjoyed a movie, it was "Home Alone."

For the next year, Surdyski will travel to different events and fundraisers

'She'll be an example for the other kids to keep trying despite their handicaps.' — MDA's Kathleen Jensen on poster child Kathleen Surdyski which benefit MDA.

The Rock River Chapter is made up of eight counties — Lake, McHenry, DeKalb, Stephenson, Winnebago, Boone, Ogle and Lee — but Surdyski will concentrate her efforts in booming Lake County.

Kathleen is the daughter of Karen and Phillip Surdyski.

Karen said MDA has been a Godsend.

"It's a very special organization. Their whole support system is absolutely excellent with both emotional support and physical support."

Kathleen Surdyski was eight years old when her condition was diagnosed. Since then, she's undergone surgical procedures to her ankles because of tendon tightening. One of the biggest problems she faces is the effects of natural growth in combination with the effects of Muscular Dystrophy.

"The doctors have been excellent," Karen Surdyski said. "They've been there for us all the time. I can't speak highly enough of them."

"We were very thrilled and very honored (to be chosen)," Karen Surdyski added.

The other poster child picked by MDA is Matthew Verneti of Rockford. Verneti is afflicted with Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy.

Congenital and Duchenne Muscular Dystrophy are just two of 40 neuromuscular diseases covered by MDA's research and patient-care programs.

MDA funds 500 research projects yearly and supports 230 outpatient clinics in the U.S.

American Lung Association funds Huff and Puff® research

The American Lung Association of Illinois and Affiliates will sponsor Huff and Puff® The Children's Asthma Program, for 220 children and their parents through Illinois in the coming year. Together with the SIU School of Medicine, Department of Pediatrics, the American Lung Association of Illinois will also be conducting research by using the Huff and Puff program as a tool for studying the effects of cooperative asthma management education in children ages 4 to 8.

The Huff and Puff® program is unique in that it targets children aged 4 to 8. Most programs are geared to older children, even though 80 percent of children develop asthma symptoms before age five.

Huff and Puff are fun loving puppets who teach children about asthma. Through games, music, creative play and dialogue, children learn how to take an active role in their care. This five session program supplements medical care by encouraging cooperative care between physician, parents and child. The overall goal is to foster cooperative management that results in the prevention and control of asthma symptoms.

The American Lung Assn. of Lake County and St. Theresa Medical Center in Waukegan are co-sponsoring the Huff and Puff® program — as part of the statewide research project.

As program size is limited, it is recommended that parents register early. Interested parents may receive additional information by calling Judy Kolomo, C.R.T.T., Carol Liberto, C.R.T.T., or Josette Griffith, C.R.T.T. of Cardiopulmonary Services at (708)360-2240 between 6:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Family Services names executive director

James R. Williams L.C.S.W. has been named Executive Director of Family Services of North Lake County, Illinois. Williams in January 1980 became the Director of Professional Services for the agency which has offices in Waukegan, Lake Villa, Antioch and Zion, Illinois.

The agency is an all-encompassing one dealing with: marital counseling, parent - child counseling, individual counseling, and total family counseling.

The philosophy of the new director is to meet the client where he is so that individual and therapist, through an eclectic approach, decide together the scheme to be used for progress. Love with gold firm limits is paramount. Strong ethics must prevail.

Williams' affiliations include Human Service Council, Youth Service Network, Education Initiative Urban League, Information Referral Task Force, Rotary Club of Waukegan and Boys Scouts.

Fort Sheridan hearing set

The League of Women Voters of Lake County has pushed for a public hearing on the final Plan for Reuses of Fort Sheridan. It has been scheduled for Feb. 23 at 10 a.m. at Highland Park High School's auditorium.

Concerned citizens are urged to attend the hearing which will be prefaced by a presentation and modification of the Plan since the last Commission meeting on Jan. 28. The Plan should represent the views of the public and will probably affect all citizens of Lake County and Illinois. It will be sent to Sec. of Defense Dick Cheney, for a final decision.

For further information call the Fort Sheridan Commission, (708)433-3410.

PADS opens overflow site

The Lake County PADS (Public Action to Delivery Shelter), a program administered under the auspices of Connection Telephone Crisis Intervention and Referral Service, announces the opening of an emergency overflow PADS Shelter site on Wednesday evenings.

The Federated Church of Wauconda is assisting the Lake County PADS Emergency Shelter program by acting as an overflow site for the Wednesday night, Ivanhoe Congregational Church shelter site. Since the beginning of this shelter season, October, 1990, the Wednesday night site has continually been forced to turn at least 1 to 2 homeless individuals away each week.

Time Magazine honors Libertyville dealer

Time Magazine has named Julius Marks, Jr., president and owner of Libertyville Lincoln-Mercury Sales, Inc., a Lincoln, Mercury and Merkur dealership in Libertyville; and president of Classic Chevrolet, a Chevrolet and Geo dealership in Waukegan, as a recipient of the 1991 Time Magazine Quality Dealer Award (TMQDA).

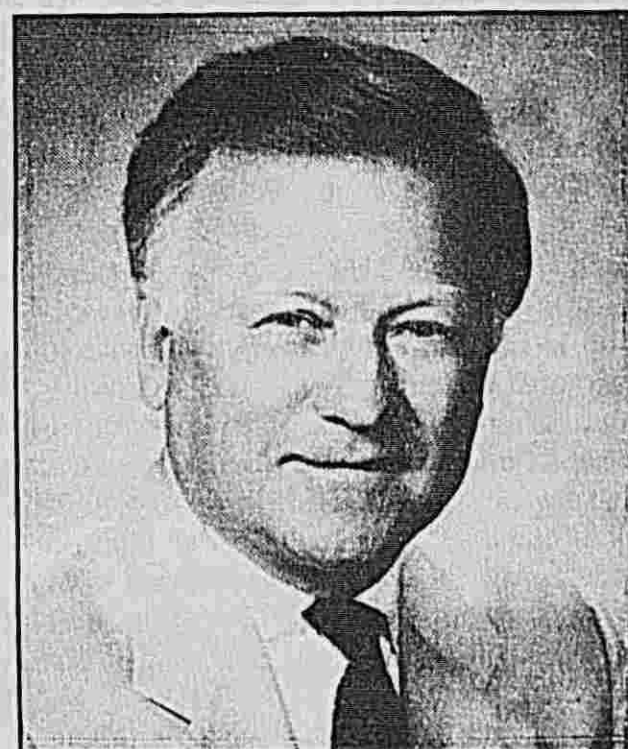

His selection was announced by Louis A. Weil, III, U.S. Publisher of Time Magazine at the National Automobile Dealers Assn. (NADA) Convention in Atlanta on Feb. 9. Marks and the other recipients were honored at the opening business meeting of the NADA Convention which this year was attended by over 15,000 people involved in the automotive industry.

Marks, whose Lincoln-Mercury dealership is located at 941 S. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is one of only 66 dealers in the entire national to be nominated for the Time honor.

The TMQDA Program is sponsored by Time in cooperation with the NADA. Each year it honors outstanding new car dealers in American for "exceptional performance in their dealerships combined with distinguished community service." The recipients are chosen by a panel of judges from the Univ. of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration.

Involved in community affairs, Marks is chairman of the Condell Medical Center strategic planning committee, chairman of the Libertyville High School citizens advisory committee, a past director of the Libertyville/Mundelein Chamber of Commerce, a former trustee of Barat College, and a member of the Rotary Club of Libertyville which named him a Paul Harris Fellow in 1989. Marks also is a director of the Univ. of Wisconsin Alumni Foundation, a supporter of "Big Shoulder" Inner City Schools Program of the Archdiocese of Chicago, and formed a testimonial committee to raise money for a heart transplant patient last fall.

Ducks unlimited holds dinner

Should the line form?

There is a bitter-sweet tone connected with the decision to grant Baxter Healthcare Corp. $644,000 in real estate tax abatements over the next 10 years to locate a $55 million distribution center in Waukegan instead of fleeing to a spot in the 1,200-acre LakeView Corporate Park in Kenosha County.

The decision is sweet because 360 jobs will enhance the local employment picture, but somewhat bitter because the action might be setting a dangerous precedent. In connection with the 19-2 vote by the Lake County Board to abate $351,000 in taxes over the next 10 years, County Chairman Robert Depke reported that Ducks Unlimited with 160 employees at its international offices on Gilmer Rd. has been offered a $1 lease for 99 years as an inducement to relocate to Memphis. The line might be forming for more local governmental handouts.

Officialdom probably did the right thing to make sure the big Baxter facility stays in Lake County. The City of Waukegan will forego the collection of $203,000 in tax collections for the next 10 years. The Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. abatement will be $90,000. So the whole transaction isn't exactly peanuts.

Still, a conscious-gnawing cloud hangs over the transaction. Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad, a seasoned businessman who is committed to forward economic movement of Lake County, considers the Baxter tax abatements a bad precedent. He openly challenged Depke for "ramming through" the abatement vote without proper debate. Dist. 6 Rep. Robert O'Reilly, the only other vote against the Baxter abatement, declared that she is "damned tired" of paying for tax breaks for big companies.

We wonder if anyone has given thought to the extraordinary fickleness of big business. International Minerals Corp. some years ago built a state-of-the-art international headquarters on Rte. 45 between Mundelein and Grayslake only to abandon the site later when a new set of corporate generals decided it would be more convenient to be closer to O'Hare Airport. Baxter itself employed considerable political pressure to obtain zoning approval to locate a plant on Wilson Rd. in Grant Township. Now the plant which once employed 4,000 persons is downgrading because of a corporate decision to relocate manufacturing functions to another area for greater efficiency. What will happen to the tax abatements in four or five years if Baxter management decides the warehouse in Waukegan has outgrown its usefulness?

The best that can be said now that the Baxter tax abatement is a done deal is that all tax abatement propositions should receive full and open debate. And if tax abatement, indeed, is a tool for economic development in the County of Lake, then let the line form. What's fair for one is fair for all.

Letters to the Editor

Vernon Hills high foolish

Editor:
As a resident of Vernon Hills I want to express solid support for the referendum Feb. 26 to fund an addition to Dist. 128's high school. I moved here because I wanted the education which Hawthorn and Libertyville High Schools offer. I also believe good education means good property values.

We've all heard talk about building a high school in Vernon Hills. While I can sympathize with the emotional argument, it does not make educational, or economical sense. Two small high schools just can't offer the comprehensive, quality educational program as one large one. As much as quality, this is an economic issue. We would be foolish to be a new school which duplicates major services already in place, such as a pool, auditorium and gym, foolish to pay the extra staffing and administration dollars. Two households do not live as cheaply as one. Neither do two high schools.

Doing a job at home

Editor:
At a time when the men and women in our armed forces are facing their greatest test, we at home are facing a test as well. Our test is to maintain our unity and resolve, as our troops are doing in the Persian Gulf.

We don't want Saddam Hussein to take this country's tolerance for anti-war demonstrators as a signal he should wait out our resolve in a long and bloody war.

I'm outraged at the brutal treatment of our POW's. And I'm saddened to see the media give so much attention to the small number of anti-war protestors who have sprung into action. It seems that every time a few protestors pick up their signs, the cameras swarm around them, and they end up on the news.

Our soldiers have said that they have a job to do and are going to get it done. I feel I have a job to do, too. And that's to stand up in strong support of our troops.

I want them to know that I and the American people are very proud of them. We are all inspired by their bravery.

Wetlands not faddish

Editor:
Regarding Patrick Connor's letter he must have attended the Ronald Reagan school of environmental science. The need and value of wetlands is not a "fad," Mr. Connors. In fact, besides providing a home for numerous plant and animal species, wetlands provide run-off for rainwater. The lack of them contributes to flooding, a common problem here in Lake County and an increasing problem since we've had all this runaway development.

As far as mosquitos are concerned, they do not need wetlands for breeding; any standing water will do just fine for their egg-laying. However, certain amphibians, birds and fish that live on wetland areas thrive on mosquitos and their eggs.

Finally, Mr. Connors doesn't cite one source in his letter (other than a rather vague reference to "recent articles") for his claim that wetlands contribute to the greenhouse effect. What next, Mr. Connors, are you going to warn us about the killer trees?

Less cost per student

Editor:
I've lived in Libertyville for years and watched our community high school develop into one of the best secondary schools in the State of Illinois. We have a stable, experienced, long-term superintendent and board of education. For years, with little fanfare, they've produced an excellent product for one of the lowest costs in our area. LHS's per-student costs are less than Mundelein, less than Grayslake, less than Lake Forest, and so forth.

The LHS Board is asking voter support on Feb. 26 for an addition to the high school. They have been thorough and prudent in projecting future enrollment - (Continued on next page)

War still is hell

by VIRGINIA PARK
Lakeland Newspapers

Most people today and in times past would agree with General William Tecumseh Sherman, of Civil War fame, who said, "War is hell!"

This is even more apparent in our time to those of us far from the battlefield with the introduction of all aspects of the conflict, preparation, attack, results, graphically displayed in our living rooms on the television screen.

Scenes of the bombing in Baghdad last week, resulting in many civilian deaths and injuries, evoke pity of course, but there are some questions concerning the incident which must be asked.

Is it customary to place a six-foot cyclone fence with barbed wire at the top, as seen on TV, around an air raid shelter?

Why aren't civilians, at least children, sent away from areas of danger?

(For the benefit of those in this present generation who may not know, and others of us who may have forgotten, during the Battle of Britain in World War II, the English sent many of their children away from the cities into the countryside, and even more of them as far away as Canada and the United States).

Are we willing to accept the statements of our leaders that military targets are their prime concern, or the propaganda of our enemy who has been proven to be unconcerned with the safety, well-being or the very lives of his own people?

To gain a perspective on war we might turn to history where we find some very interesting customs and events attendant on conflicts.

Consider the "Peace of God," established around 990 A.D. which exempted from private feudal warfare unarmed ecclesiastical personnel and farmers.

And there was the "Truce of God," enjoined by the church in 1047 which lasted until about 1200. It forbade hostilities between armies, or man to man, from Wednesday to Monday, and also during certain holy seasons.

In the pages of history we find the Hundred Years War which raged between England and France from 1037 to 1453 over territory in France which England claimed. During that time the style of warfare changed from medieval to modern, from archery to artillery, and the state of society emerged from feudalism to the beginnings of a national consciousness.

Then there are the Thirty Years War from 1618 to 1648 which was a conflict among a number of German princes backed by the European countries. It left Germany in ruins, the Holy Roman Empire an empty shell with France becoming the chief power in Europe.

Our own Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney was amused about two weeks into the present war by a headline in a newspaper which complained, "War Drags On." Imagine, two weeks! What a drag!

The Civil War lasted four years; World War I four years; World War II six years.

Many experts today feel this "Desert Storm" will not be a lengthy struggle. Perhaps with our superior methods of communication today we may be able to resolve the matter of Kuwait's boundaries and integrity better, quicker and more wisely than would have been possible in other times and wars.

Let us hope and pray.

Chalk up another local business that is getting involved in the Persian Gulf War effort.

Fifteen-minute videotaping sessions will be held Saturday, Feb. 23 and March 2, at Kemper National Insurance Companies' Long Grove headquarters so Lake County residents with relatives serving in the combat zone can tape free messages.

Kemper, which has an in-house television studio, will give the tapes for mailing. "This is one way Kemper can support our troops," stated Chuck Meinhardt, Kemper community relations supervisor. Call Meinhardt at 708-540-2512 to schedule an appointment.

BIG TURNOUT--- A big turnout Saturday, March 2, at Brae Loch Golf Club is being predicted for the tribute to Norman C. Geary, former Lake County Board chairman and a political force in Lake County for more than 25 years. That's good because Geary is deserving of public thanks for his long service both on the County Board and as supervisor of Avon Township and as a village trustee of Grayslake where he got his start in politics.

Geary never dodged an issue or withheld an opinion so he was bound to be controversial. In his early days on the County Board, Geary was an advocate of fiscal responsibility when the board split between "spenders" and "non-spenders." In recent years, Geary was identified with the open space movement and planned growth. Regardless of the issue or which way factions swung, even his enemies had to admit that no one knew more about county government and finances than Norm Geary.

After a stinging defeat for reelection as supervisor, Geary chose retirement from the County Board. While some of his enemies still are attempting to obtain a court-ordered reimbursement of part of his supervisor salary paid over a period of years, other foes are mellowing now that Geary is out of power. One of them might be current Chairman Robert Depke, who noted the other day, "Norm and I finally agreed on something." That was the $36 per round charge for golf that was proposed for Thorngate Country Club if it would have been acquired by the Forest Preserve Dist. Depke and Geary were among those who felt the price was exorbitant. Now we're wondering if Depke will stop by to extend best wishes.

The Geary party intentionally will be a low-budget affair. For $5, you'll obtain admission and a variety of munchies. Dist. 4 County Board Rep. Larry Leafblad, a long-time supporter, is convening his well-known Scotch Lads band to provide music for dancing and entertainment. Otherwise, the evening will be devoted to giving everyone an opportunity to say in person, "Thanks, Norm."

REMEMBERING HOME--- While everyone is being urged to remember our troops in the Persian Gulf, members of Florist Telegraph Delivery service are going to make it easy for our military personnel in the Middle East to remember the folks at home.

Using FTD world-wide message facilities, troops will be able to send short messages to loved ones, according to Lynn Metcalf of Aladdin Flowers, Gurnee. FTD members will deliver the messages in person and some, like Lynn, will add a rose for good measure. Hats off to FTD.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY--- House guests are coming in the four-footed canine variety these days. Petey spent four days with us while Jill and Ralph enjoyed a ski trip. He was a gentleman except at mealtime where he developed a fondness for cat food. Mom and pop will miss Petey, but K.C. and Missy sure won't.

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspaper

ESTATE POLITICS—Mettawa, that quiet little community between Lake Forest and Libertyville, plays politics just like the big boys.

In January Mayor Edward FitzSimons quit in protest over a 5-1 village board decision to reject a 510-acre office and 10-acre home site development by W.W. Grainger Co. The 18-year veteran of the village board followed this up with a letter of explanation to Mettawa's 350 residents.

Named the new mayor was Julius Abler, a trustee for 20 years. He is a hard-liner when it comes to Grainger. Abler vows to go to the legal mat with the Skokie-based company that now wants out of Mettawa in order to become part of Lake Forest.

Abler also didn't blink an eyelash about a hasty annexation by the village board of three homes on Little Melody Rd. They don't meet the village's five-acre-per-residence zoning law. It's okay by him. He's shortly moving to one of the homes.

DROP-OUT—Vernon Hills candidates play the political game, too.

When trustee candidate Keith B. Pierson showed up at the village hall with signatures on his nominating petition of people who weren't village residents he was challenged. Rather than fight it, he decided to run as a write-in candidate.

This week Pierson dropped out of the race. He says the demands of his job won't allow the time needed to serve the village.

BREAKFAST WITH GEO—If you're up Saturday morning at 7:30 a.m., catch state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) on WNIZ-FM, 96.9 on the dial.

For the past four years of her mayoral term she has had a half-hour Saturday morning radio show.

It is a folksy, informative, fast-paced half hour. Each week she tries to have a guest. Last Saturday it was state Rep. Robert Churchill (R-Lake Villa). A week or so earlier it was a former Israeli soldier, who converted religions and is now a minister.

Listeners last Saturday would have learned that bids will be opened March 1 for the new Zion train shelter/station estimated to cost $50,000; North Point Marina in Zion with its 1,500 slips is the largest in the world; the Zion Police Assn. had a dinner the preceding night which Geo-Karis attended; and James and Ruby Meyers were celebrating their 63rd wedding anniversary.

Meyers is retired from Zion Industries (the former cookie company) and now works part time for the Lake County Public Water Dist. His father, Wade, came to Zion with the Rev. Alexander Dowie (founder of Zion in 1900) to serve as a stationary engineer for the new community on the lake.

"None of the program is rehearsed," Geo-Karis said. "It's about what is happening right now. No matter how late I am out on Friday night, I've got to be there for air time on Saturday morning."

KIND TALK—After something like six sessions, the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals will make a decision Friday, March 1, about whether Meadowview farm near Grayslake can be used for composting. Waste Management Inc., the refuse giant, wants an existing 12 acres for this purpose and expand it by 25 more acres.

Suzi Schmidt

Adeline Geo-Karis

Jack Martin

The hearings at Countryside Fire Station were long and drawn out. Everyone—pros and cons—got a chance to talk.

Blame for prolonging the hearings is being heaped on Clayton Christensen of Newport Twp. He has been on the seven-member board since 1977 and chairman since 1986.

"He is a kindly older man who is too nice for this job," one observer of the Countryside hearings said.

SCORE IS 1-1—The score is 1-1 in the one-year old state Elections Board battle between Jack Martin of Libertyville and County Board members Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa and Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake, both in Dist. 4.

Martin filed a complaint saying the twosome did not claim $1,000 he gave them as a political donation for their on 1988 campaign. Leafblad said the money was for services by his advertising agency for Martin's Libertyville Saddle Shop.

Martin also said another $728 in printing and graphic arts services for that campaign was never claimed. Schmidt-Leafblad said they were not aware the periodic work was campaign services.

This week the Election Board made its decision, Martin reported. The board says the $1,000 was the way Leafblad said. As for the $728 in services, the board said the two candidates must file an amended campaign report. No fine was levied.

The only thing both sides are out is time and lots of bucks for attorneys.

Brae Loch Country Club, Rte. 45, Grayslake, 8 p.m. to midnight. (Continued from preceding page) candid and open in presenting their case to the public - and responsive to taxpayer concerns. They have committed to spending only that portion of the requested funds necessary to complete the project. Their proposal is the right way to handle the projected growth. Now is the right time to do it. Let's give this referendum our support.

Ed Raffensperger
Libertyville

Cost effective plan

Editor:

I urge support for the Libertyville High School Dist. 128 referendum on Feb. 26. Many of us have moved to this area because of high quality schools. The referendum proposal is good for our children and our property values. It is also cost effective. To maintain current quality of education, LHS must have more room. You only have to look at all the building being done at the elementary schools to know that soon LHS will be drastically overcrowded.

There are other ways to deal with overcrowding than with building additions, and I have lived in states where such measures have been used. The result is not a pretty picture. Children are restricted in the number of classes they can take, programs such as music, arts, and activities suffer, teachers have larger classes, and sports and other extracurriculars are reduced. I don't believe that this is acceptable to our community.

James R. Curtis
Libertyville

Deserving 'yes' vote

Editor:

Libertyville High School received a request from the U.S. Dept. of Education for a visitation which could lead to LHS receiving the coveted Excellence in Education Award. Reaching the site visit stage of this competition is a major honor in itself, not only for the school, but for the area community as a whole.

This recognition is proof of the quality education provided by LHS to students from Vernon Hills, Libertyville, Green Oaks, and the other feeder communities. Don't we all want to retain this quality for the sake of our children (and our property values)?

LHS will need more classrooms to continue to furnish superior educational opportunities to the increased enrollment expected in 1993-94. There's a referendum on the ballot Feb. 26 to approve the bonds needed to build that space. The cost to the owner of a $200,000 home would be only $11.25 per month (about $135 per year) in additional taxes. Our schools and, more importantly, our kids, are worth it. This bond issues deserves a yes vote.

Ross C. Heim
Vernon Hills

School addition 'sound'

Editor:

Some 20 years ago, the Village of Libertyville gave up significant tax revenue by not annexing the Hawthorn Center land. High School Dist. 128, however, does receive revenue from that rich retail area, as well as from the Continental corporate park south of Rte. 60.

LHS has a referendum on the ballot Feb. 26 to build an addition to the high school. Everybody seems to agree we'll have more students and need more space but some in Libertyville tell me to vote no because they want Vernon Hills to split off and "build their own high school." As a Libertyville taxpayer, this makes no sense. Our taxes will increase if we lose the Vernon Hills retail/office tax base, even if that means we don't build a high school addition.

The high school Board of Education's decision to add on to Butler Lake is economically sound. It will cost the owner of a $150,000 house just about $100 a year. I urge voters to support the referendum.

Earl L. Hoover
Libertyville

Tax money for car

Editor:

I am dismayed and outraged to have discovered that while claiming poverty and passing last December the largest property tax increase in real dollars I have ever seen, the school board provides a luxury car free for Dr. Cox, the district's chief administrator. It is only on rare occasions that an administrator drives outside the township on official business. Nor is the geographic expanse of Dist. 95 that great. There appears little necessity for such a vehicle to be provided by the taxpayers, except as a "perk." Do they want us to vote yea on yet another tax increase so that they can continue to provide free cars for an administrator who is paid over $90,000 a year? Isn't there an educational need that the thousands of dollars they paid for it can to to? How can we believe there is a crisis when money is spent on cars? I can only conclude the Dist. 95 school board has lost all perspective, or at least its concern for those of us paying the bills. That's this year's property tax bills which they have already voted to increase drastically and want you to vote to increase even more. Remember that when Dr. Cox drives by in the care they decided you should pay for.

Bill Fawcett
Lake Zurich

Tax dollars disappearing

Editor:

The Wauconda School board is spending my tax dollars faster than I can make them. With all the new homes and shopping areas popping up, the district must be getting a fair share.

Yet they're still operating in the red. Call Richard Warfield (past superintendent) and ask him how he was always able to stay in the black.

The $6 million dollar grade school the board wants to build is in McHenry County. How much is McHenry County contributing? The $6 million does not include staff, teachers and maintenance. Add to Robert Crown School. There is plenty of property.

Log homes a family affair in Grayslake

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Lying close to the hearth for warmth and reading light in a one-room log cabin — as the story goes — Abe Lincoln would have been dazzled by the kind of log home that bears his name.

There's no better place to be dazzled yourself than at 506 Stuart St. in Grayslake.

That's where Jack and Mary Idstein live in their beautiful warm-and-cozy yet bright-and-spacious log home.

The house features a living room with a wood-burning stove, a large kitchen with a breakfast bar in the center, a dining room, three bedrooms (one doubles as an office), two baths and a full basement. Because of the lay of the land, a two-car garage is part of the basement.

The nouveau-rustic interior facades are pine.

But it's more than just a home for the Idsteins. It's a model of the kind of home they can help you build with a Lincoln Logs® package.

This is not to be confused with the log-toy sets of your youth.

"This one comes in a much bigger container," Jack joked.

A Lincoln Logs package includes everything you need to build an exterior-finished, closed-to-the-elements home. That means logs, doors, thermal-pane windows, roofing trusses and materials, interior studding — and much more.

From there, you can build the home yourself or get varying degrees of help from professionals. Or you can leave the whole thing to the pros and just accept the key.

That's where the Idstein family — or Idstein Corporation — comes in.

Jack and Mary are authorized dealers/distributors for Lincoln Logs. Son Paul is an accomplished carpenter, who'll offer his services to help a log-package buyer build that dream home. Son Ken owns Idstein Mortgage Services, and he'll help with the financial end.

Jack and Mary offer a strong argument for the company they represent and the product offered. Lincoln Logs has been offering its packages for over 15 years, while the Idsteins have been dealers for seven years. They've lived in their 1,800-square-foot log home since 1983.

The Idsteins will give you a list of 21 points by which to measure their product against similar ventures. And, they'll tell you how Lincoln Logs is certified with three major building-code agencies, including Building Officials and Code Administrators International (BOCA).

"They're energy efficient," Jack said. "There's good insulation built right into the logs. And then, there's the aesthetic value."

Mary echoed, "I couldn't live in any other kind of house after living in a log home."

Strength is another factor. Each layer of logs is anchored to the previous layer with a steel rod. The homes come with a 100-year guarantee.

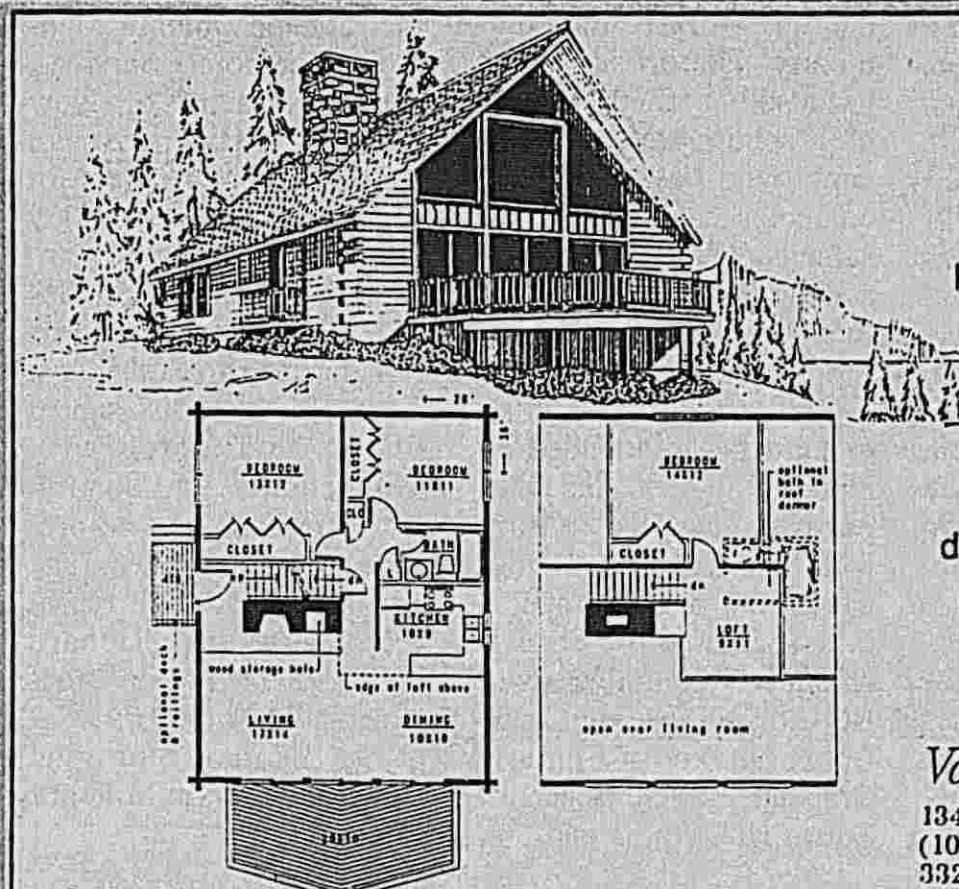

Jack cited recent disasters around the country — hurricanes and earthquakes — that couldn't tumble a Lincoln Logs home.

"If a tree falls on the house, it won't crush the house — just the roof," Mary said.

"That's what surprised us — they said you're going to shrink and shrivel, but we don't have any cracks in the plaster at all," Mary continued. "Maybe it has something to do with the builder (Paul), too."

Design comes in too. The packages can be made to up to suit your individual tastes. The company offers more than 70 different styles.

The Grayslake-based Idstein Corporation is putting the finishing touches on the "Valcour Island" model of a Lincoln Logs® home near Antioch. The parent company offers over 70 different designs, with sizes ranging from 560 to 3,900-square feet.

Valcour Island
1340 sq. ft.
(1008 sq. ft. first floor,
332 sq. ft. second floor)

Jack and Mary Idstein relax in their Lincoln Logs® home in Grayslake. With the help of sons Paul and Ken, the Idstein family can help you finance, buy and build anything from a sports cabin to a log mansion.

Business-school venture has 11 partners in '91

Mundelein High School officially began its fourth year in the Ventures in Partnerships program at a signing breakfast on Feb. 6. The "Ventures" program links area businesses with the high school in projects that are mutually beneficial. The breakfast was hosted by IMC, a fertilizer manufacturer, and was held at its facility in Mundelein.

According to Ventures coordinator Toni Rogan, the program has been highly successful. "During the past year we have set up shadowing experiences for students in various businesses, arranged for guest speakers for classes in government, economics, home economics, business education and science, sponsored a fashion show with the home economics classes, and displayed student art work in the community. The private sector has also benefited from the high school staff and students who have served as computer teachers and consultants for their companies and through participation in the high school's workshops and seminars."

The partnership signing breakfast was attended by representatives of the companies with whom Mundelein High School has formal business-education partnerships. Participating were Faith Curtis of Bio-Logic Systems Corp., Debbie Larker of Courtesy Graphics, Bob Schachner of Edward D. Jones and co.,

Richard Austin of IMC/Fertilizer, Colleen Keast of IMCERA Group, Inc., Joanne Duhn of Manpower Temporary Services, Franco Aloisio of New Century Bank, Bryan Hogan of Northwestern Mutual Life/Baird, Shelley Hoselton of Talent Forum, and Mayor Marilyn Sindles of the Village of Mundelein. Three other area businesses have also signed to be partners with Mundelein High School, but were unable to be present at the breakfast. The businesses and their representatives are Richard Rothman of the First of America Bank, Sandra Haas of the Venture Store and Dawn and Marvin Miller of Joseph's Bakery.

HEEL PAIN

A heel spur is a bony growth on the underside of the heel bone. This growth appears in response to an abnormal pull from the ligament that runs through the arch. Other factors that indicate spurs are long term standing on hard surfaces. A Bursitis usually co-exists with a spur and is what causes the pain. Treatment consists of custom made arch supports, called orthotics, that relieve the tension on the ligament and pads the heel area. Surgery is rarely indicated.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Are you a compulsive overeater? Strategies to help control overeating

Feb. 27, 1991 7-8 p.m.

Presented by Mary Speno, Ph.D.

Lake-Cook Psychologists

Staff Psychologist, Saint Therese Medical Center

If people only ate when they were truly "hungry," there would clearly be fewer who struggle with weight control problems. But people eat for many reasons other than to satisfy nutritional needs: depression, anxiety, boredom or simply to celebrate special events. Sometimes these eating habits become so automatic that they are difficult to control, resulting in weight control problems and related health risks.

Dr. Speno is a clinical psychologist who has helped many individuals develop greater understanding and control of their compulsive eating patterns. This presentation will offer practical strategies everyone can use to develop more healthy eating patterns.

Just how much life insurance should you have?

by T. GAERTNER

One of the most misunderstood and often misrepresented financial considerations that we all must deal with is "How much life insurance should I have? Not a simple question to answer, but let's try to shed some light on this subject.

This way to wealth

There are a number of different reasons to purchase life insurance including:

To provide income for a surviving spouse and/or dependents; proper structured, it can provide an economical way to pay estates taxes; to provide supplemental tax deferred retirement income in addition to the death benefit; plus numerous business applications.

For most of us, however, the primary need is to provide sufficient living income for our surviving family and it is the need that I want to focus on here.

Let me start by saying that unless you have your entire retirement next egg put away, you probably have a need for life insurance. How much insurance is enough?

The first step: Start by computing the existing capital available. This would include, liquid assets, existing life insurance proceeds, retirement plan benefits, possible sale of some non-liquid assets.

Once that number is totaled, you have to subtract the survivors immediate cash needs. These include: final expenses (burial expense and final illness costs); an emergency fund to provide some liquidity, possibly an education fund to pay college costs; possibly money to pay off a home mortgage or other existing debt.

Third step, compute the total capital required to provide the desired income for your survivors. This is where our computer comes in handy. You need to factor in the following variables: how much income is required for the survivors? This will vary depending on whether college funds have been provided for and whether the mortgage has been paid off; will the surviving spouse have an earned income (ie: will he or she be able to work); what will we assume for inflation; how much will the invested portfolio earn; how much income will be lot to income taxes; how long will the survivor live; will the survivor live off of income only or will they invade principal; how much income will come in from other sources such as social security, pension plans, annuities, etc.?

Fortunately, computer programs have been developed to do the number crunching after we have input the assumptions listed above.

The end result is a calculated dollar amount of capital required to provide an inflation protected income stream for your survivors.

Simply compare this calculated amount of capital needed to the actual capital remaining after providing for immediate cash needs (Step 2 above) and you have a good approximation of your additional insurance need.

While this may sound like a lot of work, it really is not if you have access to a financial planner who has a computer with this software. I recommend that you go through this process with your financial planner to determine whether you are doing a good job with your own risk management.

Editor's note: Terrance R. Gaertner, a certified financial planner and certified public accountant, is president of Chicago Financial Advisors, Inc., Chicago, a financial planning company for individuals and business. He is a member of a panel of financial experts preparing This Way To Wealth. Questions are invited by writing to This Way To Wealth in care of this paper or 2203 B. Lakeside Dr., Bannockburn, IL 60015.

Family

And, of course, there's the value of the home. "A log home appreciates 25 percent more than a standard stick home," Jack explained.

Simplicity is another plus. "There's no sheeting or siding, no drywalling, no mud and taping," Jack said. "Once the logs are up it's a solid home."

Speed is another factor. A small shell can go up in just two weeks. A larger project can be put up in a month, while a finished product — inside and out — takes about three months.

Costs for the packages range from around $12,500 for a 560-square-foot "sports cabin" to about $69,500 for something in the 3,900-square-foot "quite elaborate" category.

The pay plan goes like this: 10 percent when you order, 40 percent when you decide on a delivery date and the final 50 percent upon delivery.

"We've never missed a delivery date," Mary said.

So far, the Idsteins have been involved in putting up a dozen homes in addition to their own.

Paul is currently putting the finishing touches on a

"Valcour Island" model near Antioch.

Arrangements can be made to inspect an area

Lincoln Logs home.

Teams, fans ready for new post-season format

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Basketball fanatics will have to get used to a whole new way of life when it comes to post-season basketball.

For the old regional and sectional formats have gone by the way of the two-handed set shot as the Illinois High School Assn. has instituted a new seeding arrangement with individual sectional complexes. Most area teams are in the Waukegan sectional complex. The first eight seeds get home games the first round, which is Feb. 26. All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Although there appears to be no upsets in the making on paper, as the old saying goes, that's why you play the game.

"It is the fairest way to do it. If we had our old set-up, we would have had the No. 2 seed (Warren), No. 3 seed (Libertyville) No. 5 seed (Carmel) and No. 9 seed (Mundelein). Now, we don't have to worry about knocking ourselves off," Libertyville Coach Max Sander said.

There are few inter-area contests to highlight fans interests, with the exception of No. 12 Grant at No. 5 Carmel. But Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg does not believe that fan interest will wane with the new format.

"The tournament is when the fans really want to become part of it," Rosberg said.

Rosberg, whose team improved to 13-10 overall with two wins last weekend, said the fifth seed was pretty much what he expected.

Four second round games will be played at the teams with the higher seeds on March 1. The semi-finals will be at Waukegan March 5 with the final set for 7:30 p.m. March 8.

A look at the first round games:

GRAYSLAKE (6-18) at STEVENSON (23-2): this would appear to be a mismatch from the time the Grayslake bus pulled up let the Rams off. But the 16-seeded Rams Coach Greg Groth has other ideas. "If we win tonight (against McHenry Tuesday), and the game is called closely, I think we have a chance to give them a better game than people think."

The Rams have won three of their last five but will that matter to the likes of Chris Coleman, Eric Roth and Boomer Whipple?

Prediction: Stevenson by 20.

MUNDELEIN (11-13) at DEERFIELD (12-11): This one promises to be one of the closer first round contests. The Mustangs are miffed by their ninth seed and, while North Chicago was seeded higher. This one is ripe for the first post-season Mundelein win in years led by Shawn Harlan and Kyle Kessel. Prediction: Mundelein by three.

ANTIOCH (10-15) at WAUKEGAN (15-8): This contests pits the No. 4 seed Waukegan against the ever-improving Sequoits, the 10th seed. The Sequoits have won four of their last five games, including a victory over Mundelein last week. Another upset possible here, as Antioch would like to play three games in the Waukegan gym Prediction: Waukegan holds on by five.

GRANT (13-11) at CARMEL (13-10): The 12th seed is at the fifth seed in this contest. The Bulldogs have been playing well of late, as a 56-50 win over Johnsborg kept them in the upper division of the Northwest Suburban Conference and guaranteed a better than .500 season. This one could be an inside vs. outside shooting game, as Carmel has the three-point shooters. Carmel is led by Kevin Ryan and Pete Eisenbarth on the inside and Chris Mohr and Jermaine Williams' perimeter game. Damien Vela is coming off a 16 rebound effort against Johnsborg and Rich Twarowski scored 20 points. Prediction: Carmel by seven.

LAKE ZURICH (6-17) at WARREN (20-5): how the second seeded Blue Devils react to an 82-79 overtime loss to Stevenson which cost them the North Suburban title will be a key here. Warren must watch the outside shooting of Steve Knipp, but should have more than enough weapons to handle the 15th seeded Bears. Prediction: Warren by 12.

HIGHLAND PARK (8-15) at NORTH CHICAGO (12-12): The Warhawks thought they deserved the seventh seed and got it, opening up against the 10th seed. The question is which one of several personalities the Warhawks have shown this .500 season will show up. They are led by Johnny Johnson and Hassan Ahmad. The team has beaten a foe it was not supposed to (Warren) but lost to Mundelein twice.

ZION-BENTON (7-17) at LIBERTYVILLE (19-6): Libertyville Coach Sanders indeed has reason to smile about the new format. His team, led by five seniors, faces a Zion club it easily handled in the regular season. Prediction: Libertyville by 11.

LAKE FOREST (9-15) at ROUND LAKE (21-3): Panthers wrapped up the Northwest Suburban Conference title last week with 62-50 win over Marengo in which RL scored the last 12 points of the game. Panthers won 13 straight in NWSC, but have had troubles outside the conference. Wally Illg's three-point shooting and inside game of Dave Burton and Pat Lejman leads Round Lake, which has seven seniors. Coach Bob Ward is expecting a tough game from Scouts, led by Paul Pezza.

Film Rev.

Julia Roberts is the hottest female property in Hollywood after her big hits in "Steel Magnolias" and "Pretty Woman," followed by another financial success in "The Flatlanders."

She has been copping the "best actress" trophy at many awards dinners, including the Golden Globes, for "Pretty Woman."

Roberts has done a complete departure by coming out in a mystery/horror film, "Sleeping With the Enemy."

Despite the fact that many critics are less than excited about "Enemy," Roberts is packing them in at the theater, taking the top gross award last week, finally knocking "Home Alone" out of that spot.

"Enemy" has Roberts trying to escape a psychotic husband, well played by Patrick Bergen, who plays a great mentally disturbed character who is driven to kill his wife. He tracks her down all the way to Iowa the refuge she runs to.

Meanwhile, she has gotten together with Kevin Anderson who plays a sort of strange professor in the theater department of the local college.

Anderson, who comes from Gurnee, does a fine portrayal of the professor. He also appeared in "Country" with Bruce Willis.

All three actors do from a great to a creditable job with their roles, but "Enemies" is a case where the actors are much better than the implausible script, one that has too many holes in it to stay the intriguing thriller it starts out to be.

We give it three out of five stars on the merits of its three leading actors.

Award-winning poet to read poems at CLC

Phyllis Janik, writer and associate professor of English at Moraine Valley Community College, will read from her collection of poems, "Fuse," at noon Wednesday, March 6, in room B239 at the College of Lake County, 19351 W. Washington St., Grayslake.

Written as a tribute to the victims of Cuba-U.S. political abrasions over the past 30 years, "Fuse" is described by critics as astonishingly ambitious and complex, and completely original in conception and execution. Studs Terkel writes, "Fuse is electrifying — a fusion of art forms into an illuminating whole, revealing a portrait of Cuba too seldom seen." Writer and commentator Andrei Codrescu notes, "This is a magical work driven by the elemental geography of a continent still in the grips of geological, political and psychological definition."

Janik's visit to Havana in 1984 and her subsequent research there in 1986 inspired her to write "Fuse" which goes beyond the concerns of two countries. She writes for the victims of increasingly pervasive political dissension and wars.

To illustrate her work, Janik uses photographs of 20 tapices (worked leather hides from Havana) which she will display at the reading. Copies of her book will be available for purchase.

Janik is a graduate of the University of Iowa with a master's degree in fine arts. reviews have appeared in numerous magazines and newspapers, including the Chicago Tribune and the Chicago History Magazine. She has won several fellowships and awards, including the Illinois Literary Award and the National Endowment for the Humanities. Her book, "No Dancing/No Acts of Dancing," was nominated for the Carl Sandburg Award.

Hilo Hawaii

The Way Hawaii Used to Be

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

With 140 inches of rain a year it's America's wettest city. So why am I suggesting Hilo as a stop on your Hawaiian vacation?

Those predictable afternoon showers are the reason for the twenty acres of exotic orchids you see lining the runway as your plane lands at the Hilo Airport. In fact, the entire city is like a natural greenhouse! Flower farms and botanical gardens surround Hilo. Banyan tree canopies cover entire city blocks.

As a stark contrast to this tropical setting is a winter backdrop of the snow covered peaks of Mauna Kea! Those same gentle rains also create Rainbow Falls, and the many other waterfalls a few miles outside of town.

If you do visit Rainbow Falls, look to the left of the parking lot for a stone stairway leading to a private viewing area directly over the falls. From there follow the path to a gigantic Banyan Tree for an even better view.

You will find the town of Hilo on the east coast of the island of Hawaii, which is commonly known as "The Big Island."

One third of the population of the big island's locals call Hilo home, yet you will find few tourists. Hilo has the relaxed, laid-back and very friendly feeling of a true Hawaiian town. In fact, Hilo is so Hawaiian that the Hawaiian language is still taught in her schools.

Under the 'my favorite restaurants category', try K.K. Tei on Kamehameha Ave. for great seafood and a spectacular Bonsai Garden. For breakfast, try Uncle Billy's at the Hilo Bay Hotel. Ask for the $1.99 Aloha Special.

Just 35 minutes southwest of Hilo is Volcanoes National Park. Here active volcanoes spew lava causing the island to grow even today. But that's a subject for another column.

If you are staying at one of the resorts on the west coast of the Big Island, take a day and drive over to the "rainy side." You may be surprised how lush this island really is.

Even though Mardi Gras is over, these "New Orleans" style seafood recipes are good during the entire Lenten season.

Narvin Kimball's stuffed eggplant

- 6 medium eggplants
- 1 lb. small shrimp
- 1 lb. white lump crabmeat
- 4 bell peppers
- 4 medium onions
- 1/2 cup parsley
- 3 pods garlic
- salt and pepper
- 1/2 cup celery
- bread crumbs

Boil eggplants until soft; then dig out meat. Save eggplant shells. Fry bell peppers, onion, celery and garlic altogether until limp, then add eggplant meat. Let smother on medium fire until most water is cooked out, then add shrimp. Cook for another 20 minutes, then put all of this in another bowl and fold in crabmeat and parsley. Let cool a little, then add enough bread crumbs to be firm enough to stuff shells. Sprinkle a little bread crumbs on top and paprika. Then sprinkle a little oil or oleo on top. Bake until done or brown in 35 degrees oven.

Good comedy in 'Kidding'

by TOM WITOM

The best — (fill in the blank, be it athletes, singers, craftsmen, cooks or whatever) always make the talent they have look easy. Good comedians are the same way.

And in "Only Kidding," Jim Geoghan's raucous behind-the-scenes comedy about comics now playing at Chicago's Wisdom Bridge Theater, the business of being a professional funnyman comes under the harsh light of reality. Oh, how the pros make it seem like such a piece of cake—when they're onstage.

Critic's Choice

The five-man cast in this dramatization are each deliciously funny in their own way.

Bernard Beck captures the essence of an aging comedian who is his struggle to revive a flagging career must learn to adapt to the times and clean up his act (no more lowbrow ethnic or homosexual jokes and certainly no more impressions of long-forgotten celebrities).

Eddie Jemison shows his desperation as he maneuvers to escape the backwaters of comedyland, namely second-rate lounges, and doesn't care who he steps on to get his shot at the top, a spot on a nationally televised variety show. His is a raw, biting portrayal.

Other solid performances come from Jim Orlicb as the prissy associate producer, Bob Kohut as the coarse, Mob-connected agent and Gus Buktenica, an intelligent and sensitive gag writer.

"Only Kidding," scheduled to run through March 10, is riddled with lockerroom language and sexist humor. But it's good, clean fun just the same.

- 3 celery ribs, chopped
- 4 Tbls. butter
- 2 Tbls. flour
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 cup half and half
- 1/2 cup mushrooms, stems and pieces
- 3 sprigs parsley, minced
- 1 Tbl. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tsps. celery salt
- lemon juice
- Tabasco

Cut oysters in small pieces. Boil celery until tender. Melt butter and blend in flour; add onions. Cook until light brown. Add oysters with some of the oyster liquid, then the cooked celery, milk and other ingredients. Taste constantly until it is tangy. Add Tabasco, Worcestershire or lemon juice as you desire. Continue stirring and tasting. When you have achieved the tanginess you wish, cook for 20 minutes over low flame. If not thick enough, add two tablespoons cornstarch mixed with a little cold milk. Serve with Melba rounds.

Bouillabaisse salad with caviar dressing

- 1 lobster tail
- 1/2 pound shrimp
- 1 cup fresh crab meat
- 1 head Boston lettuce
- 1 head Romaine
- 1 bunch watercress
- 1/2 slivered celery
- 2 tomatoes, quartered
- 1 hard-boiled egg, chopped
- 1 Tbl. chopped chives
- 1 small onion, sliced thinly

Prepare seafood to be cooked in seasoned water. Cook until done and then shell, devein and dice. Blanch celery for two minutes in boiling water. Chill all well. Mix the dressing. At serving time, break greens into salad bowl. Arrange seafood, tomatoes and celery on top. Then sprinkle with egg, chives and onions. Toss with dressing. Serves 8 to 10.

Dressing: 1 cup sour cream, 1 cup mayonnaise, 2 Tbls. horseradish, and 4 Tbls. caviar.

Ellis plays bluegrass at Adler

The David Adler Cultural Center will present legendary banjo player Tony Ellis and guitarist Bill Ellis in a concert of bluegrass and old time music on Saturday, Feb. 23 at 8 p.m. at the Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

Tony Ellis was born in the mountains of North Carolina in 1939, into a musical family. His grandmother taught him to play the banjo at an early age and also studied traditional fiddling. In the 1960's he was a member of Bill Monroe's Blue Grass Boys and worked with country music star Mac Wiseman.

His son, Bill Ellis, began playing bluegrass guitar at an early age under the guidance of his father. He holds a masters degree in classical guitar from the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music and has recently recorded an album of country blues music from the early 1900's.

In addition to the sounds of fiddle, banjo and guitar, Tony and Bill Ellis also grace their performances with some wonderful old singing.

Also appearing will be blue grass musicians Mark and Lynn Rische of Barrington, in a program of guitar, mandolin and harmony singing.

This program is supported in part by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts.

The David Adler Cultural Center is a non-profit organization which sponsors cultural arts and humanities programs for individuals of all ages. For information on this and other programs call (708)367-0707.

Critic's Choice

Bard would be proud

by TOM WITOM

A welcome Shakespeare revival is enhancing the current are theater scene, with critically acclaimed productions of "Coriolanus" by Evanston's Next Theater Company (extended through March 3) and the Shakespeare Repository's rarely performed "King John" at the Ruth Page theater in Chicago, which will go into a rotating weekly repertory with "Much Ado About Nothing," starting Feb. 20 and continuing through March 31.

Dir. Barbara Gaines has done an outstanding job with "King John", an action-packed historical drama.

The plots and subplots, filled with intrigue, suspense, humor and pathos, pit England against France and cousin against cousin. Greg Vinkler is in fine form as King John, whether he's conspiring against the implied threat of a young prince, the loss of his mother or his own final undoing.

And the language, melodious as the sound from a finely tuned violin or pounding as an insistent drum beat, rolls off the tongues of Robert Scogin as the visiting papal emissary, Peter Aylward as King Philip of France, Lisa Dodson as Constance, William Norris as Salisbury, Henry Godinez as Lewis and, especially, Kevin Gudahl, as the Bastard, Philip Faulconbridge.

Muntu

Energy, artistry and magic will flow together in an electrifying performance by the Muntu Dance Theatre when it presents traditional African dance at 8 p.m., on Friday, Feb. 22, at the College of Lake County auditorium in Grayslake.

Support Desert Storm families

Additional money was provided this week for the Great Lakes Naval Training Station's Desert Storm Family Support Fund for emergency aid to families who have members deployed in the Middle East. James Hotham, Chairman of the Great Lakes Friends of the Navy committee and a national director of the Navy League of the United States, presented a $1,000 check to the Fund. It is the second installment of a combined pledge by the Lake County Council of the Navy League and the Friends of the Navy. "More is forthcoming," Hotham said.

He said the donation was made possible by acquiring new Community Affiliate Memberships in the League. "Our Council members are getting these memberships from business and professional people during a concentrated campaign which started February 1 and will end March 15." He listed the following organizations which already had joined the Navy League locally as Community Affiliate members as of February 7: American International Hospital, Zion; Arrington State Farm Insurance Agency, Waukegan; Coral International Inc., Waukegan; De-Bruler Co., Libertyville;

Happy Bill's Restaurant, Beach Park; Kosco Flags, Waukegan; Lakeland Publishers, Grayslake; The News-Sun, Waukegan; Northwest Automotive, Zion; Olson Comfort Services, Waukegan; and Whiteman and Fry Lumber Co., Zion.

For a number of years the Lake County Council and "Friends of the Navy" have also combined their efforts to recognize outstanding Sailors, Marines and Coastguardsmen by awarding citations, and sometimes cash, quarterly and annually. These awards are given principally in honor of the memory of two admirals who were highly regarded by the local community: Rear Admiral Henry A. Renken and Rear Admiral William O. Gallery. "Each in his own way contributed substantially to the enhancement of the Navy image," Hotham said. RADM Renken was the Commandant of the Ninth Naval District and author of a respected national "Navy Image" study. RADM Gallery was, for years, instrumental in bringing nationally known business and professional leaders to Great Lakes to be guests of honor at weekly Recruit Graduation Reviews.

Hotham pointed out that members of the League may contact any member of the League or call him at (708)746-3356.

County services recognize senior citizens needs

by T. SANTOPOALO
RN, MS

Lake County, along with the rest of the nation, is experiencing a demographic change as more people lead longer, more active lives. Is Lake County prepared for the challenges that lie ahead in meeting the needs of older adults? Several people in the county who have contact with older adults were consulted about the trends in services for this population.

Frank Phillips, director of senior community services for Catholic Charities of Lake County in Waukegan explains a development in the city. "Waukegan is planning a new senior center on Belvidere St. that will have expanded services," says Frank. "The young seniors are more vocal in what they want and are apt to do more traveling. The new center will have intergenerational programs and more recreational activities that are geared toward this group."

Frank believes that healthcare is the number one concern of older adults. "They are worried about the rising cost of medicare premiums and access to care." The fiscal strength of the federal and state governments will be major determinants in the cost of healthcare to older adults.

Mary Riggs, RN, MA, nursing administrator at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center in Lindenhurst cites several trends in services for older adults. "A number of alternatives exist for families in response to society's changing culture. The daughter and daughter-in-law are no longer home to take care of aging parents. The result has been an increase in home health agencies, adult day care centers, and respite services to help older adults remain in their homes."

Changes in healthcare services in Lake County over the past few years give an idea of what lies in store for the future. "A number of hospitals have special senior inpatient services that recognize the unique needs of seniors," says Riggs. "For example, the Senior Support Unit at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan includes decor geared to compensate for changes associated with aging. Also, the staff is given training in gerontology."

Previously, Lake County had no physicians trained in gerontology. "Now, there are many physicians that are board-certified in this field," says Riggs. "The passage of recent federal legislation is making care of the elderly in nursing homes more humane. For instance, the legislation mandates a decreased dependence on the use of restraints and psychotropic medications and increased education for nursing assistants."

Another institution that recognizes the needs of older adults is the College of Lake County (CLC) in Grayslake and its outreach centers. The number of older students attending the college has almost doubled since 1985. In-district residents who are 60 years and older and pay one-half the regular tuition rate. Residents who are 65 years and older and who qualify financially may enroll without paying tuition or activity fees.

Curtis L. Denny, director of admissions and records at CLC recognizes that students are "staying younger longer even though their age is advancing." He adds that older students bring diversity to the classroom based on their experiences, and that their presence is likely to lead to the development of different programs and services.

Homestead exemptions offer property tax relief

Homeowners should take advantage of the state's Homestead Exemptions Act which provides property tax exemptions to veterans, senior citizens and others who are improving their property, said state Rep. Virginia Fiester Frederick (R-Lake Forest).

"Homestead exemptions have been available for more than a decade, but many homeowners are not taking advantage of this service, which can be used annually," Frederick said.

There are four basic types of homestead exemptions.

Homeowners living in their homes are eligible for the "Owner-Occupied Exemption" which provides a partial exemption from the property tax up to $3,500 based on their reduced assessed valuation. A taxpayer should apply for this exemption with the County Supervisor of Assessments or County Assessor.

Homeowners who are age 65 or older and living in their own homes are eligible for an additional homestead exemption of $2,000. Applicants should file a certificate of status with their township assessor in each township.

Frederick said the "Homestead Improvement Exemption" can be applied for by a homeowner who has added an improvement to property, such as a garage. Homeowners should apply to their township assessor.

Applications for the "Disabled Veteran's Exemption" are handled through the Illinois Dept. of Veteran's Affairs.

For more information or questions, interested persons should contact: Illinois Dept. of Revenue, 101 W.

Jefferson, Springfield, IL 62794.

Applicants can also call the Springfield office weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. at (217)785-2604 or 1-800-732-8866.

Services

(Cont. from Page 26) ernment. New activities and trips that cater to the interests of those over 50 are popular on campus. An adult lounge near the library was created as a way for adult students to interact and identify with each other as a group. Like Curtis, Ed believes that life skills of the older student enhance the learning opportunities of younger students.

A successful endeavor that has been held at the college in cooperation with the Lake County Council for Seniors is "Senior Expo." This is a day of educational sessions, exhibitions, food, and entertainment for senior citizens. Pat Oilschlager, assistant to the vice president for educational affairs at CLC describes Senior Expo as a way to bring older adults to the college, to interact with students and faculty, and to find out what services are available. "We are sensitive to the fact that there is a healthier aging population looking to the college for fulfillment," says Pat.

Leaders in Lake County are cognizant of the needs of older adults and are willing to accommodate them. Older adults can help to ensure that the county is responsive to them by participating in the community and getting involved politically. The adage that "life is what you make it" certainly applies to older adults in Lake County.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Advisers turn you on to worthwhile opportunities. Educational and distant concerns prosper. Make plans to visit faraway friends. Concentrate on ways to improve security. Do the necessary research about investment matters.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Partnership responsibilities are accentuated. The needs of a loved one may take priority over career interests. You

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Seriousness of purpose will allow you to make much headway now. Be willing to change your views when the evidence warrants it. With economy in mind, you may change your mind about a prospective purchase. Still, the alternative will meet your standards.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Residential matters are much on your mind. You may assume responsibility for an older relative. Be glad that you can help. You're locked within yourself about a problem. Perhaps you're trying too hard to come up with the answers.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Though the party may not be the most exciting in town, your attendance will be greatly appreciated. Avoid needless expenses. Trust your intuition to guide you to the right answer involving a career concern. Be willing to change, if necessary.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Be tolerant of the viewpoints of others. Don't become fanatical. A distant matter may concern you, but a loved one has some good advice. A friend may ask you for a loan or some other assistance. A look at your accounts could cause you to make some financial changes.

'Devils earn respect, but Wildkits gain Elite Eight

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Television network ESPN likes to call its Monday broadcasts "Big Monday".

As far as the Warren Twp. High school girls basketball team is concerned, the other 51 Mondays of the year may be fine, but this one will go down in Warren history as "Lost Monday".

No, Warren could not hold on to a 20 point lead through seven minutes of nightmarish basketball. Yes, the Blue Devils did earn the respect of the Chicago area.

The Blue Devils were held scoreless for seven minutes - the final four in the fourth quarter and the three-minute overtime session against Evanston in the Maine South Supersectional. Instead of making plans, reservations and checking the route to Assembly Hall, the 69-60 loss to Evanston made it a time for hugging and consoling in Park Ridge.

"This is the most crushing defeat in my 11 years," Warren Twp. High School Coach Bruce Campbell said.

"I'm proud of the kids. Most people did not expect us to be able to stay with such a good team. By far, this was our best game of the year. Everything worked well. They played their best game for 28 minutes," Campbell said.

Evanston used some of the same techniques Warren did in its comeback from a 20-point deficit. The Wildkits used defense and free-throws to break open the game, which led to what Campbell feared most about the team - fastbreak baskets.

Evanston was paced by 14 points from guard Shania Pompey and forward Schonella Stewart. In order to earn the trip to Champaign, Evanston had to overcome horrendous first-half shooting before it would rally with a 27-10 shocking fourth quarter barrage.

Warren was led by Patty Geroulis' 18 points as the senior connected from one of her favorite spots along the baseline. She would score one of Warren's last baskets, a 10-footer for a 56-36 lead with 6:28 to go.

Just as visions of a second trip to Assembly Hall in four years began to seem within reach, the lead proved to be a cruel joke. For Evanston, in classic tortoise and hare style, began the fans the winner plays at 8 p.m. Feb. 21.

A Kate Serdar free throw gave Warren a 15-point lead. Aimee Geiger, a junior who scored 11 points, seemed to save the day midway through the quarter. Evanston was trying to cut the lead to eight points, but Geiger grabbed a defensive rebound, ball well in the final minute. After running the clock down from 46 to 25 seconds and again down to the final buzzer, layup by Tiffany Bircham forced overtime.

Warren had its chances in the final two minutes but missed its last three free throws.

Warren had no chance in the overtime. When Warren could get the ball upcourt against Evanston's trapping defense to open players, passes which went for assists in the first quarter went through players hands, hitting the wall at the end of the gym.

Evanston got layups from Pompey, who would foul out and Penny Armstrong. The winners also made five of six free-throw tries.

A power failure near Maine South was the pre-game talk. The only casualty there was only popcorn, candy and pop could be sold at the concession stand.

Warren more than supplied the power in the first three quarters. Evanston missed 10 of its first 11 shots and the fastbreak was not in Evanston's strategy until it needed it.

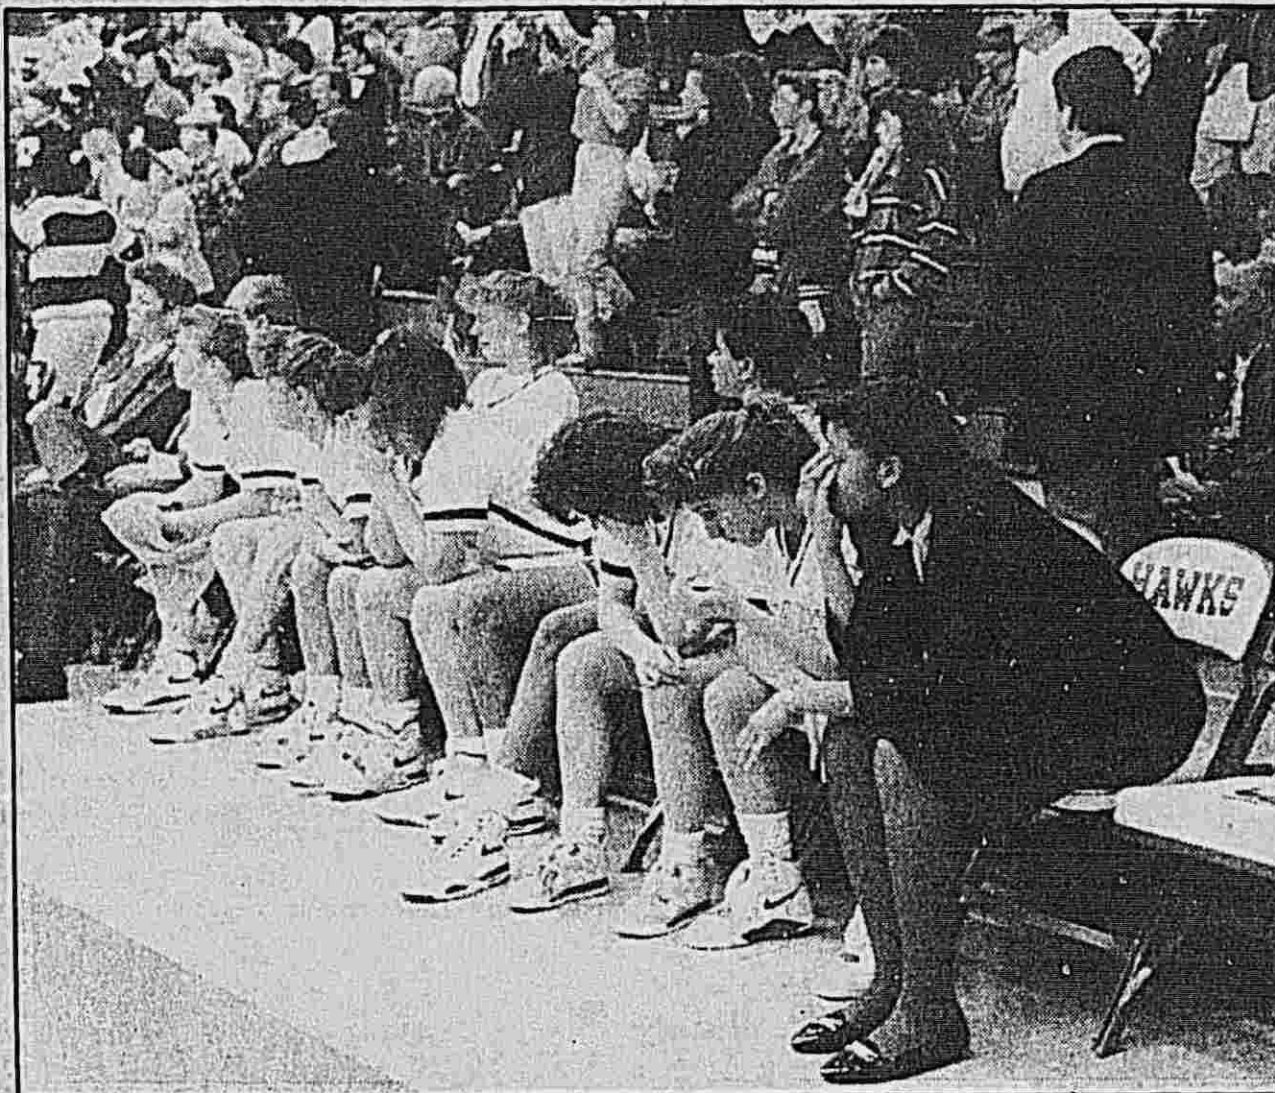

Evanston led 13-11 after one, but a tip-in by Marnie Rettig gave Warren the lead it would enjoy for 20 minutes. Two three-pointers by Terra Reed and two Geroulis free throws keyed Warren to a 12-2 run.

Rettig, scored on two baskets for a 14-point margin. Warren led by nine at halftime.

The lead grew to double digits in the third quarter. A basket by Monica Brandt gave Warren a 17-point lead at 46-29.

But then Evanston went to work and is now making plans.

For Warren, softball practice starts on Monday, which was little consolation to the shock of the previous seven minutes.

Watching season end

Warren Twp. High School girls basketball players can only wonder what might have been as they watch a 20-point lead slip away to Evanston at Maine South supersectional. Warren fell 69-60 in overtime, ending its season at 27-2, just one win away from the Elite Eight. - Photo by Steve Peterson.

comeback innocently enough, with two free throws from Stewart and a basket by Pompey. The tortoise would win again.

Warren still had a comfortable margin as the public address announcer reminded then scored on a layup and was fouled. She made the free throw - Warren's last point of the night.

Evanston connected on four of six free throws down the stretch, and worked the

Carmel girls short in finals, long on talent

by GREG MILLER
Lakeland Newspapers

Carmel may have come up a nickel short when the rosin settled at the IHSA Girls State Gymnastics Meet last weekend, but Corsair coach Norbert Bendixen has money in the bank.

After the Friday-night preliminaries at Palatine High School, the Corsairs held a 145.90-145.80 lead over Addison Trail.

Despite a superb performance by sophomore Sarah Mikrut in all four events during Saturday's finals, the Corsairs surrendered their advantage and the state title to Addison Trail, 146.10-146.05, in the closest state-meet finish ever.

"It was as close as you can get," Bendixen said.

But Bendixen isn't crying in his Gatorade. Although he'll lose seniors Carolyn Curley and Laura Pastore to graduation, the rest of his eight-girl squad will be back to grab for the brass ring next season - and for several seasons to come.

In addition to Mikrut, sophomores Jaime Wegener and Bea Selz will return, along with freshmen Jenny Logue, Tanya Holik and Amie Zanck.

Bendixen said he and his girls are cashing in on years of hard work.

"They're all club kids - they've been competing for quite some time," Bendixen said. "They're very talented kids with great character. They've been fighting adversity all year. They've been coming back from deficits all year."

"I'm so pleased with what the kids did."

They had a goal and a job to do. They had the day of their lives on Friday - they had a very good meet. Sarah had a great day on Saturday.

"I'm very pleased with their accomplishments," Bendixen added. "It was a great team effort. And, A-T (Addison Trail) did a real good job too."

Lake Park (144.25) took third in the team standings, while Libertyville and Barrington tied for fourth at 143.90.

Libertyville was led by seniors Tiffany Rafiner and Liz Calabresa, who tied for fifth place as individuals in the floor exercise. Both girls scored a 9.55.

Calabresa - who also finished seventh on the vault at 9.5 - had been in the thick of it before, finishing first and sixth in the floor-exercise during the two previous state championships.

Mikrut, who ended up third in the all-around, was the only Corsair to compete during the finals. Mikrut could raise Carmel's team total if she improved upon the individual scores she'd posted in the preliminaries.

After her first vault was disallowed by the judges, Mikrut had to settle for a 9.35, which improved neither her individual score nor Carmel's team score.

Addison Trail's Penny Kunsman then created a tie for the team lead when she bettered her prelim score on the vault with a 9.6. That made it 145.90-all.

Mikrut returned fire with a 9.5 on the uneven parallel bars, which was an improvement on her prelim score in the event and gave Carmel a 146.05-145.90 lead.

The Blazers then took the lead for good when Leticia Dennis scored a 9.5 on the balance beam. That was .20 better than her preliminary score, giving Addison Trail the final edge.

Baumann, Strobl close careers with state titles

Area wrestlers made names for themselves in several weight classes at the state individual meet last weekend in Champaign.

Efforts were paced by Libertyville's Mike Baumann at 119 pounds, winning the state title, as well as Al Strobl of Lake Zurich at 160 pounds.

Mike Pratt of Round Lake was third at 125 pounds and fellow Panther Justin Zdeb was sixth at 119 pounds.

"His toughest match was the semi-final," Libertyville Coach Dale Eggert said of Baumann. "He had to pull out a reversal. In the finals, he was pretty much in control."

The 6-5 semifinal round win was over Gayle Myles of Proviso East. In the championship round, Baumann downed Naperville North's Mike Renella 4-1.

Eggert recalled his first impressions of Baumann as a frosh looking to make his mark in Libertyville wrestling.

"He was really hard working an intense individual," Eggert said. Baumann was 20-2 as a freshman, but had a rough start Mikrut had two more chances to boost the Corsairs, but her efforts on the beam (9.3) and in the floor exercise (9.5) matched her prelim figures.

It was the fifth state title for the Blazers.

on the sophomore level, losing his first four matches. He recovered for a 31-13 season and has improved over the past two years to become Libertyville's first state champ since Greg Gulsvic at 185 pounds in 1976.

Lake Zurich's Strobl, who wrestled in Germany last summer, completed edged Joe Wier of Belleville East for the title. He had downed Brian Bartolotta of Marist 11-1 in the first round.

In third place action, Pratt completed his Round Lake career with a 6-4 win over Chris Bee of Springfield Lanphier. "Getting the first takedown helped him," Round Lake Coach Bob Curran said.

In Class A, Wauconda Coach Tom Nance's team's efforts were highlighted by a third and fourth place finish. Jason Daun was third at 135 and Nate Schroeder fourth at heavyweight.

Daun downed Bob Osmore of Mt. Olive 7-0 in the third place match. Schroeder lost 89-2 to Kewanee's Matt Jenkins in the heavyweight third place match.

Panthers claim loop title Standings

Armed with revenge as a factor, Marengo came into Round Lake looking to play the spoiler role in the final home game for the Panthers.

Northwest Suburban Conference teams should know by now that the Panthers' den is no place to bring in such thoughts.

For Round Lake took charge in the second quarter, then held off the Indians for a 62-50 win. The victory clinches the NWSC title for Round Lake with a perfect 13-0 mark. Marengo, which was upset earlier in the week by Marian Central, finishes the NWSC season in second place. The two teams have been battling for the top spot for several years now, but the contest will be Bill Barry's last at RL as the school is leaving the conference next year.

But for Round Lake, it was a night of celebration. Just as the football team had done a couple of months before.

Round Lake led 17-13 after one but dominated the second stanza 20-10.

"We played very well in the second quarter," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The Panthers, 21-3, fell to an Indian rally in the third quarter, but a basket by Wally Illg settled the issue. The 12 point lead was the biggest of the game for Round Lake.

Round Lake was led by junior Pat Lejman's 19 points, while senior Dave Burton had 16 and senior Wally Illg 13. Ward complimented the seniors, many of whom were celebrating after Round Lake blitzed Grayslake in football, on the team for showing the way.

"We have had great senior leadership. They have led by example all year and all seven will be missed," Ward said.

In addition to Burton and Illg, seniors contributing to the Panthers' success this season include: Garrett Horn, Brian Smith, Max Drath, Joe Sledzik, and Mike Bragg.

Third quarter lifts Grayslake

Grayslake's boys basketball team may have been penciled in as cellar dwellers in the Northwest Suburban Conference a month ago.

The way Grayslake Coach Greg Groth views things, it is time to get out the eraser.

"It is nice to get out of last place. Depending on what happens with Lake Zurich and Johnsburg Friday, we could finish as high as fifth place," Groth said.

The Rams have won three of their last five, the latest coming in a 57-44 verdict at Lake Zurich Friday. The win gives the Rams, who are done with their regular season, a 6-18 record, 4-10 in the NWSC.

The Rams took charge early against the Bears, as Terry Jones, who scored 24 points, ignited an 8-0 run at the start.

Jim Silva contributed 18 points, three assists and three rebounds.

Nate Roberts and Chris Vaughn led Grayslake's rebounding efforts as both had 11, season highs for both.

An 11-2 run in the third quarter put the Rams ahead for good after Lake Zurich had rallied late in the first half.

Grayslake finished the season with a non-conference game at McHenry.

Wins put fun back into games for Carmel squad

What's the best way to put fun back into a basketball season?

If you are the Carmel Corsairs, the answer is easy.

After losing eight of 11 games, and three in a row, the Corsairs got back on track with a conference win over Notre Dame and a non-conference victory over Loyola.

"We started to do the things that worked for us in the past," Carmel Coach Scott Rosberg said. "The kids are starting to have fun again."

So did the Carmel home crowd, which first saw the Corsairs down Notre Dame 78-56 for an even 6-6 record in the East Suburban Catholic Conference.

Carmel's late-season schedule does not get easier however, as Carmel must travel to Westchester for a matchup against mighty St. Joseph Feb. 22. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Balance was the name of the scoring game both nights. Against Notre Dame, Carmel got 14 points from Jermaine Williams, 13 from Chris Mohr, 12 from Kevin Ryan and Pete Eisenbarth had 10. Carmel used a second and fourth quarter run to key the two wins. A 24-11 spree put the Corsairs in charge against Notre Dame. An 18-8 run sent the home fans home happy in the Loyola game.

"The second and fourth quarters were the parts of the game when we were doubting ourselves," Rosberg said.

The Corsairs were led by Eisenbarth's 13 points, while Williams had 12 and Mohr 10.

Santa Maria girls to vie for Knights' top honors

The final four teams four the girls basketball championship in the Cardinal Stritch Knights of Columbus tournament have been decided while two categories of boys teams are just getting underway.

St. Emily will face Santa Maria in the first semi-final game 10 a.m. Feb. 23 at Carmel High School in Mundelein. Our Lady of Humility will face St. Joseph of Libertyville in the second semi-final. The title will be played 1:10 p.m. Feb. 24.

In second-round games Sunday, St. Emily downed Lake Shore Catholic Academy 46-4, Santa Maria edged St. Patricks of Wadsworth 30-21, Our Lady of Humilty downed St. James of Arlington Heights 23-12 and St. Joseph of Libertyville doubled St. Ann 42-21.

The boys games started with St. Pats outlasting St. Thomas of Villanova 41-33. St. Bede topped St. Mary of Freemont 45-17 in boys class B competition. The class B second round games will be played starting at 8 a.m. Feb. 23 with the semifinals at 9 a.m. Feb. 24. The title game for Class B, shoos under 275 students, will be 2:30 p.m. Feb. 24.

In group A, Thomas Jefferson downed St. Francis 62-42, St. Anastasia edged St. Anne of Barrington 30-29, Montini of McHenry topped Lake Shore Catholic Academy 39-20.

The cheerleading competition will be at 3:30 p.m. Feb. 24.

CLC men hold off Scots

It was a mixed bag for College of Lake County as the Lancers traveled to Crystal Lake in search of Skyway Conference wins.

The men succeeded in narrowing the gap on .500 in the conference, but the women's team suffered a setback in its battle to obtain third place.

The men improved to 6-20 overall, 5-6 in Skyway with a 91-75 win.

Markus Zackery led CLC with 29 points and Ryan Coskey had 18, including six three-pointers. Corey Statham added 10.

CLC had a 10 point lead in the second half.

Depke talks issues with economic commission

In a wide ranging address and question/answer period before members of the Lake

County Economic Development Commission Wednesday night, County

Board Chairman Robert Depke revealed many of his goals over the next two years. Among them: better cooperation between municipalities and county government in a new spirit of improved relations; resolution of a dispute over boundary lines for the county public works department sewer system in Gurnee; a long range plan to alleviate some of the auto gridlock on county roads; addressing the problem of new landfills; completion of a proposed four-story parking garage over the property between the county administrative tower and Waukegan library; and assisting where possible the City of Waukegan with development of the lakefront.

On the topic of garbage disposal, Depke said the problem has been around for over twenty years. "It was a problem while I was on the board years ago and it is still a problem. We need more landfill sites but no one wants one near their home, yet we're running out of space," Depke said. He told the commission that the solid waste committee, which has been looking at options to include an incinerator or reclamation operation, has been working on proposals which need to be considered soon.

Speaking about the increasing amount of traffic on the county's highways the chairman said he wants to get rid of some gridlock by an aggressive road improvement program. "I may not be able to accomplish much in the next two years during my term," Depke stated, "but I have instructed the superintendent of the Department of Transportation, Martin Buehler, to begin putting aside some of the road funds so that we will have monies to work with later. We want to look at what's good for the county in the years to come, not just for today."

Also on the subject of highways Depke told his audience he would like to see more east-west through roads to Waukegan for better access, and also other interchanges on the tollway at Rt. 137 and somewhere north of Grand Ave. "Those interchanges are difficult to negotiate," Depke said,

"really tough, but I think we need others."

In answer to a question regarding the Waukegan lakefront the chairman said, "We would like to help, we just don't know exactly how at this time. The lakefront is a jewel in Lake County and we are looking at what might be done." Depke indicated the lake shore is a resource which should be developed and preserved for all people and that the county hopes to work with Waukegan officials toward that end.

On cooperation with municipalities Depke cited the recent acquisition of the public parking lot downtown adjacent to the Waukegan library where the county will construct a four-story parking garage. The facility can be used by persons summoned for jury duty in the courts, county employees and the general public.

"This is another instance of a need which has taken years to resolve," Depke explained. "We negotiated the purchase of the Waukegan parking lot a few weeks ago and can now move ahead with construction. In my view the county has battled the municipalities too much for too long. I am working for improved relations and a new cooperation between these entities."

Forest Preserve letters to get a brand new look

The presses are humming with brand new Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. stationary.

The stationary is complete with a new logo, replacing the old one of a year and a half. The Forest Preserve board voted 13-8 in favor of the new logo after various concepts were discussed. "Everyone has their own idea of what the Forest Preserve means to them," Forest Preserve President Andrea Moore said.

Moore said the new logo, a leaf joined at the stems, is the third in the district's history and is part of an upgrading of the signs.

"We did not thoroughly consider all the uses necessary for the application of the logo," Moore said of the board member's discussion.

The four leaves represent the goals of the Forest Preserve: preservation, restoration, education and conservation.

"It is a very subjective vote," Moore said.

Lakeland Newspapers' (708)223-8161 Auto MART

What is your car worth?

Have you ever wondered what the current market value of your automobile really is? Whether you are buying or selling a used car, or are simply curious, pinpointing a fair market value can be somewhat confusing.

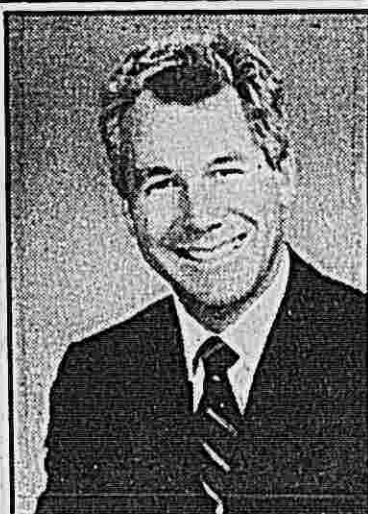

A dealer might suggest one price while newspaper ads might suggest a range of others. And, although high and low book values are obtainable by the general public, the available sources are limited and inconvenient.

To alleviate the problem, a state-of-the-art computerized system has been introduced by National Automobile Data Service, Inc. which makes information on current used auto and truck values readily accessible. Simple dial 1-(900)741-CARS (2277) on any Touch-Tone® phone to activate the Auto Priceline service, follow the simple instructions, and within minutes you can obtain the current high and low values of autos and trucks from 1946 to the present. The data is systematically updated so it is always current, and the service includes a list of applicable vehicle options.

The fee for this fingertip service is $1.50 per minute. There are no additional long-distance toll charges. If a caller experiences any difficulty with the Auto Priceline a customer service extension is available.

Service helps students locate financial aid

Every year, millions of eligible students miss out on their share of the $26 billion dollars available from state and federal student aid programs either because they don't apply or they do not know how to complete the state and federal student aid applications in a manner that will insure the best chance of receiving an award.

To assist families in determining exactly how much money they are eligible for in the form of state, federal, and special campus-based student aid programs, Higher Education Funding Service is now offering a sophisticated computer service that analyzes a student's individual family circumstances and prepares a computerized step-by-step outline illustrating what action the student needs to take to be assured of qualifying for a share of the $26 billion in student aid that is available for the 1990-91 school year.

Anyone seeking additional information should contact Higher Education Funding Service, P.O. Box 453, Libertyville, Ill. 60048. Phone (708)367-5866.
